Postal Delay Question Is Up to the Public

Letters are coming to The Star office in growing volume complaining of the breakdown in postal delivery since the terminal and sorting section were moved from Hope Post Office to Oaklawn Station Post Office on the west side of Texarkana.

An occasional letter takes us to task, although The Star goes to press on time and has no more control over postal operations than you do. Once we put the papers in the mail the delivery problem is the government's.

You have been reading almost daily in this column the trouble a newspaper has—caught between angry subscribers and an unworkable government delivery system.

What's needed is a united front of RFD patrons to compel the government to switch the terminal and sorting section back to Hope. Pod Rogers, the circulation manager, and I were at Oaklawn Post Office late Tuesday afternoon to observe the arrival of the mail truck from Hope and watch the sorting operation. Except for the four Hope routes and Nevada county all local mail copies of The Star are trucked to Texarkana, sorted, and distributed from there.

We observed the procedure, warned the postal authorities we would give them the rest of this week to straighten out the trouble—but came away with the depressed feeling it will never be straightened out unless the terminal and sorting section are restored here.

Whether our action will be a suit in federal court, or merely a petition, isn't clear at this moment. But we'll make a decision next week—and will ask Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce and local firms to join us in whatever actions seems most feasible.

Perry Campbell, restaurant and tourist court owner at Perrytown just east of Hope, reported he is receiving the newspaper three days late.

W.S. and L.W. Williamson of Washington, Route 1, Box 108, report continual delays in receiving The Star.

And here is a letter from Washington Route 1:

Hope, Ark.

Gentlemen: We wish to complain about not getting our paper until it is four days old some times. Monday we got Thursday's, Friday's and Saturday's papers. None came Tuesday, and on Wednesday we got Monday's and Tuesday's papers. The first week (last week) we didn't get any papers until Wednesday, so we felt like you wouldn't want to give us this kind of service, for we are afraid you will lose a lot of customers at this rate. Sincerely

Firemen Control Blaze

Members of the Hope Fire Department continue to work today keeping a blaze in check in a trash yard behind the Bruner-Ivory Handle factory on Laurel street.

Sawdust, wood chips, and wooden blocks caught fire yesterday. Damage is minor and firemen are keeping the fire under control.

Inspection Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is increasing its inspection and enforcement efforts to halt a "decline in general sanitation practices" in food plants.

The crackdown will be aimed at manufacturers with poor cleanliness records. Firms not complying with clean-up orders could face seizure of their products and court action.

KXAR 25th Anniversary Banquet

Radio Station KXAR will commemorate 25 years of service to Southwest Arkansas with a silver anniversary party Friday night at 6:30 at the Third District Livestock Coliseum.

T. Tommy Cutrer, host of Music City U.S.A., now on 130 country western stations, will be the special guest for the night and will entertain with a few songs and some stories, as well as just visiting with persons who want to come by and say "hello."

T. Tommy is heard at 1:00 p.m. every weekday on KXAR. Other special guests include Don Corbett, the voice of the Arkansas Radio Network and well known to listeners all over Arkansas. Tom Longfellow, president of ARN will also be on hand for the event as will other station representatives in Southwest Arkansas, and L.B. Tooley who managed KXAR for 11 years.

Dinner service starts at 6:30 p.m. and staff members will be present to register all who attend. Special features will include music by Red Goodner and the Country Boys... an exhibit of awards won by the station over the years, and a drawing for 4 $25 gift certificates to be spent with KXAR sponsors.

Admission will be by advance tickets only with no tickets sold at the door. 530 persons are expected to attend and sponsors are reminded to be sure to bring their tickets when they come.

Delicate Operation for Wallace

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace has begun receiving physical therapy, his doctors said today. They were pessimistic about his being able to resume campaigning before the Democratic national convention in July.

The Alabama governor was said to be in good spirits, although he experienced a temperature rise described as "mild to moderate" and a slight increase in pulse rate. These were considered normal after an operation.

Meanwhile, federal authorities at Baltimore said they found presidential campaign literature for Sen. George McGovern and books about Robert F. Kennedy's assassination in the car of the man charged with shooting Wallace. It started investigators looking into the possibility that the man may have been following McGovern also.

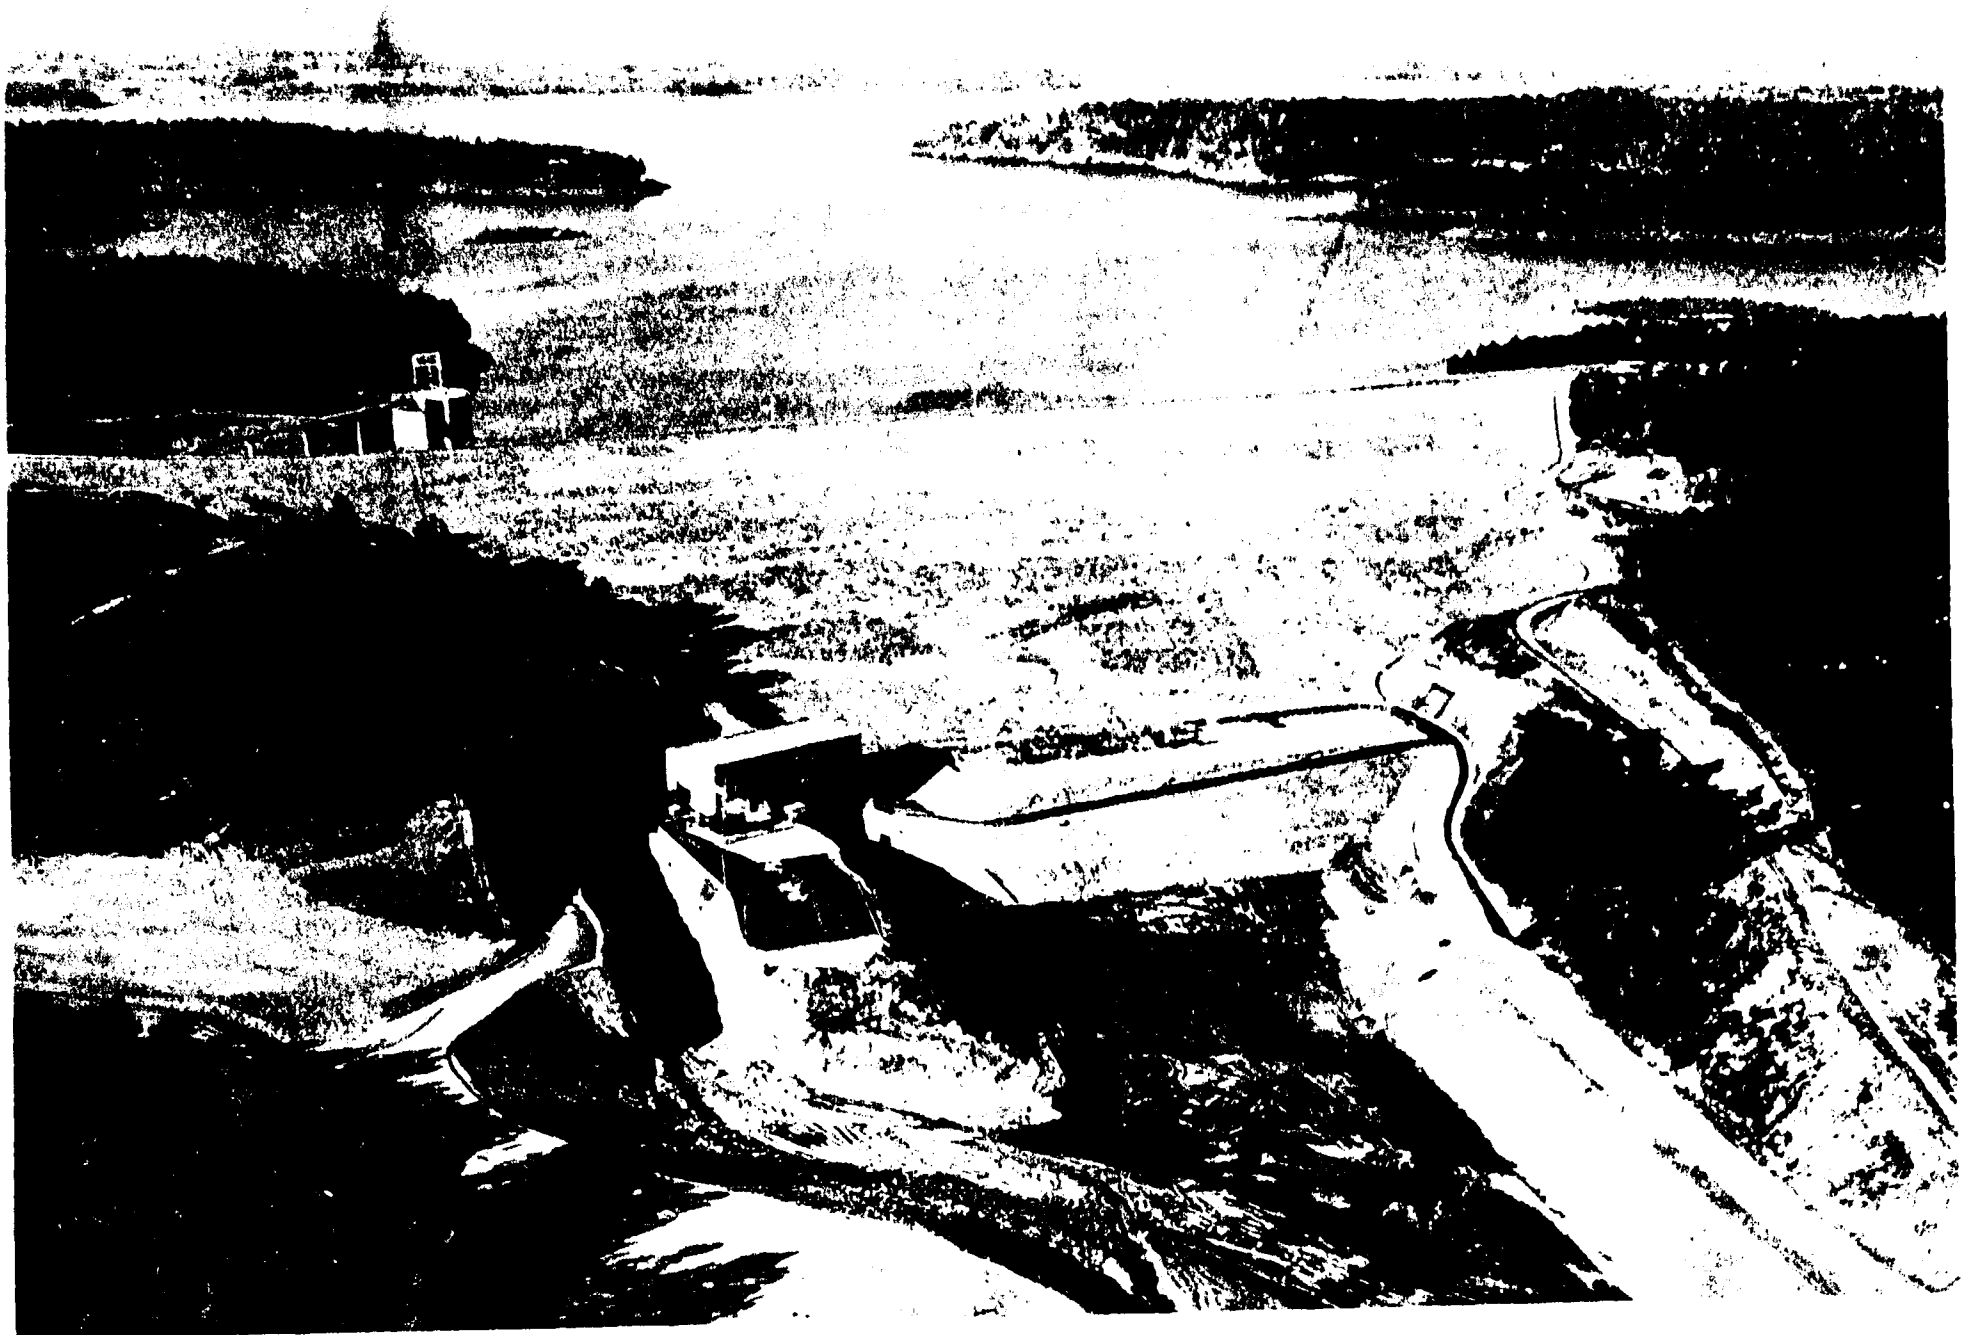

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., visited the hospital Thursday and gave Wallace's wife two Senate ash trays for the governor.

Thurmond did not see Wallace.

Doctors say one of the .38-caliber slugs that ripped into Wallace's body may leave him a cripple.

The morning medical bulletin said there is no indication of infection or abscess in the abdominal cavity.

Arkadelphia's DeGray Dam Dedication Saturday

ARKADELPHIA—One of the most promising recreational complexes in the South will be dedicated Saturday, May 20. This is the DeGray Dam and Reservoir.

Located south of Hot Springs, only seven miles north of Arkadelphia on Highway 7, DeGray Lake is already attracting fishermen and water lovers from all over the United States.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, Democrat from Louisiana who has labored for over 25 years with the Arkansas Congressional delegation bringing DeGray Dam to reality, will deliver the keynote address.

Sen. John McClellan will introduce Sen. Ellender. Also on the program which begins at 10 a.m. are Gen. Frederick J. Clark of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Gov. Dale Bumpers and Lt. Gov. Bob Riley.

The Arkadelphia Chamber of Commerce is expecting a crowd of 10,000. Under President H.W. McMillan, local attorney, the Chamber plans a dedication of which "Clark County and all of Arkansas can be proud."

DeGray Dam, impounding the waters of the Caddo River, is a feature of a comprehensive plan for the Ouachita River Basin.

Relief Column Nears An Loc

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese relief column advanced to within 2½ miles of the besieged provincial capital of An Loc today, making its biggest advance in six weeks, field reports said.

The carrier Saratoga joined the battle to lift the six-week siege of the devastated town 60 miles north of Saigon. It was the carrier's first combat since she was commissioned in 1956.

Moving behind hundreds of bombs dropped by jets from the Saratoga and from U.S. B52 bombers, the South Vietnamese met no determined resistance from North Vietnamese forces, the field reports said.

The U.S. Command confirmed an earlier report from South Vietnamese headquarters that 300 North Vietnamese troops were killed by a B52 strike two days ago southwest of An Loc.

Despite no major opposition as the government infantrymen leaptfrogged by helicopter from point to point, South Vietnamese field commanders indicated they expected tough fighting ahead as they try to clear North Vietnamese troops from Highway 13.

The South Vietnamese field commanders were reported cautious because of heavy casualties already sustained in the bloody six-week drive to open Highway 13 and lift the siege of An Loc. The equivalent of three South Vietnamese divisions are committed to the drive.

Associated Press correspondent Lynn C. Newland said the strongest opposition is coming from the west side of Highway 13 where North Vietnamese forces are well entrenched to withstand air strikes.

The arrival of the 78,000-ton Saratoga from the Atlantic boosted the 7th Fleet to six carriers for the first time in the war and increased the offshore American naval force to about 46,000 men aboard more than 60 ships.

The 78,000-ton Saratoga came from the Atlantic Fleet and her home port in Mayport, Fla. Her planes immediately entered the battle to lift the six-week siege of An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon.

Summit Talks on Asia and Mid-East

By JERRY BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's trip to Moscow is coming at a time of continuing discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union on a wide range of issues.

And the bulk of Nixon's time during his eight-day stay has been left free for talks likely to deal with these issues with Communist Party Chairman Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexi N. Kosygin and other Soviet leaders.

Vietnam, the Middle East and Europe—all sources of East-West conflict or tension—are certain to be high on the agenda.

The two countries also are in the midst of negotiations on strategic-arms limitations, cooperation in space, trade and health research.

And still more discussions are under way on the Soviet Union's World War II lend-lease war debt to the United States and on efforts to prevent

Youth Drowns

WEST HELENA, Ark. (AP) — Authorities said that Cleveland Hunter Jr., 15, of West Helena drowned Wednesday while swimming in Storm Creek Lake about three miles north of here.

Authorities said they were told Hunter and two other youths were practicing diving and that after a dive Hunter did not come up. Hunter's mother, Mrs. Marie Hunter, said her son had a history of stomach cramps.

Reprisal Against U.S.

Egypt Slashes Embassy Staff

By C. C. MINICLIER
Associated Press Writer

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt has ordered the U.S. mission in Cairo and the Egyptian staff in Washington cut in half as a new expression of anger at American support for Israel. Each mission presently has 20 members.

The semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram said President Anwar Sadat ordered the cuts to protest the U.S. policy of "consolidating the continued Israeli aggression through the occupation of Arab territories."

American diplomats in Cairo confirmed the cuts had been ordered.

The State Department said it was not informed of the reasons for the Egyptian action, but "we will, of course, comply."

Before Egypt broke relations with the United States during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, 300 Americans worked at the U.S. Embassy in Cairo and agencies affiliated with it. After the break, a skeleton mission of four diplomats and six administrators moved into the Spanish Embassy.

The mission was expanded to 20 persons after Secretary of State William P. Rogers visited Cairo a year ago and the Egyptians got the idea the Nixon administration might pressure Israel into giving up the Sinai Desert in exchange for reopening of the Suez Canal. Now the mission goes back to four diplomats and six administrators.

There was speculation in Cairo that Egypt's latest move was intended to pressure President Nixon into being more favorable toward the Arabs in his discussions about the Middle East in Moscow next week.

Sadat said after his own visit to Moscow last month that he had assurances Moscow would make no deal with Washington without consulting Egypt first.

Since October, Sadat has denounced the United States for failing to persuade Israel either to comply with the U.N. resolution calling on it to withdraw from lands occupied in 1967, to respond favorably to U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring's request for information on how it proposes to implement the U.N. resolution, or to respond favorably to Sadat's offer in February 1971 to reopen the Suez Canal in exchange for Israeli withdrawal from part of the Sinai Desert.

Sadat has grown increasingly hostile toward the United States since President Nixon's decision in January to sell Israel more Phantom jets.

All Around Town

Kenneth Jamison principal of Blevins High School announced today the selection of the school's students who have been chosen as members of The Society of Outstanding American High School Students, the country's leading high school honorary. The students honored are Margaret E. Turner, Wanda Hooker, Donnie Bonds, Bonnie Harding, Cathy Spears, Susan Floyd, and Susan Little.

Because of their accomplishments, these students are most deserving of recognition by the school, the community, and the nation. As leaders of American youth they represent one of the most important segments of our society.

House Votes 12 Billions for Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing an increase in the number of veterans needing medical care, the House Appropriations Committee today approved a record $11.87 billion to finance the Veterans' Administration for the fiscal year 1973.

It included that amount in a $19.71-billion appropriation bill sent to the House floor for consideration next week.

Other large allotments were $3.34 billion for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and $3.71 billion for the Department of Housing and Urban Affairs.

The allotment for veterans' programs is $941.5 million more than Congress voted for the present fiscal year and $54.58 million more than the President requested for medical programs.

The committee said it recommended the medical increase to support a higher patient load in VA hospitals—an average of not less than 85,500 patients per day instead of 83,000 proposed by the administration.

It wrote into the bill a requirement that the VA follow the higher committee figures and operate 98,500 beds to take care of peak loads. It also insisted on an average staff-patient ratio of 1.49 staffers for each patient. It called for correction of personnel programs "hindering the efforts to hire and retain sufficient high quality staff in the medical programs."

Public Use Project for Millwood

The Tulsa District, Corps of Engineers, today invited bids for the construction of public use facilities at Millwood Lake on Little River near Ashdown.

Bids will be opened June 8 and the cost of the work, which is to be complete in 210 days, is expected to be between $25,000 and $100,000. Bids are solicited from small business concerns only.

Col. William E. Read, District Engineer, said one shower and toilet building with sewer, water and electrical systems will be constructed in the Cypress Slough public use area. Hydrants and water lines also will be installed in the Saratoga Landing public use area.

Millwood Lake, completed in 1966, attracted 2,733,500 visitors in 1971. Only Texoma, Fort Gibson and Eufaula, of the 24 Corps lakes in the Tulsa District, had more visitors than Millwood last year.

New River Bill Presented

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Joe Nix of Arkadelphia, chairman of the state Committee on Stream Preservation, said Wednesday that a new Arkansas Scenic Rivers bill will be presented to the next General Assembly.

Nix said the revised version of the bill was approved Wednesday by the committee at a meeting of the state Game and Fish Commission Building.

Senate Takes Up Gun Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by the attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, a Senate Judiciary subcommittee has cleared a bill to put new curbs on the sale of handguns. But what types of pistols will be covered is yet to be resolved.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief sponsor of the bill, said the measure is aimed at halting the manufacture and sale of all concealable handguns not designed for strictly sporting purposes.

But Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, the subcommittee's ranking Republican member, said he favors the sale of handguns for any lawful purpose, including self-defense. He said the subcommittee action was taken with the understanding that he and Bayh would try to work out exactly what kind of weapons will be covered.

Under the 1968 gun control act passed after the assassination of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, imports of handguns are barred unless they are determined by the secretary of the Treasury to be suitable for lawful sporting purposes.

The criteria, such as barrel length, weight, caliber and safety devices, are established by Treasury regulations.

being prosecuted by the U.S. Army Engineers, under the direction of the Chief of Engineers and the Secretary of the Army.

The objectives of the plan are flood control, navigation, water supply, pollution abatement, the production of hydro-electric power and recreation.

The water areas of the reservoir are open to the general public without charge and access is available over public roads and launching ramps. Public access areas will contain campgrounds, drinking water and sanitary facilities.

Long range plans include a state park with a marina, cabins, a hotel and a jet airport near the area.

Construction was begun in 1963 and the total project is estimated to cost $63,800,000. This includes lands, highway and utility relocations, operation buildings and machinery and public recreational facilities.

Bombs Aboard Big British Liner at Sea

LONDON (AP) — The Defense Ministry said today bombs are reported to have been planted aboard the Queen Elizabeth 2 at sea and that four bomb disposal experts were being flown out to mid-Atlantic to deal with them.

Unofficial reports in London said the captain of the big liner had been advised bombs were planted in New York, the ship's last port of call, and would explode if a huge ransom was not paid.

Cambodia Cut Up but Fights on

By ROBIN MANNOCK Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodia has lost more large chunks of its territory to the Communists in the last month but Marshal Lon Nol hangs on and demands that the enemy surrender.

The Communists have seized substantial portions of the southern provinces of Svay Rieng, Kampot and Takeo since mid-April and also have taken parts of neighboring Kandal and Prey Veng, all near the border with South Vietnam.

These gains combined with earlier seizures in the north give the Vietnamese Communists and their Cambodian allies control over perhaps a million Cambodians—one seventh of the population—in more than half the country.

"Why don't the Cambodians just surrender?" wondered an American colonel.

"The present situation is forcing you to bring the war to an end," Lon Nol told the Communists.

IRA Launches Bloody Raid

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — More attacks on Protestants in Northern Ireland increased the prospect today of a violent backlash which police say the Irish Republican Army is trying to provoke.

More than 20 Protestants were wounded, three Protestant homes were destroyed and 30 were damaged, three Protestants were kidnaped and one apparently was tortured Wednesday in the IRA's continuing terror campaign to unite Protestant-dominated Northern Ireland with the Roman Catholic Irish Republic.

"The IRA is absolutely set on provoking a backlash, an uprising," said a police spokesman. "It didn't get it today, but God knows what it will do to get it tomorrow. It's getting worse all the time."

A British soldier was killed during the night in a guerrilla attack at Crossmaglen, a village near the border of the Irish Republic, and the bullet-riddled body of a civilian was found on the outskirts of Belfast.

The soldier was the 329th death recorded since British troops were sent to Northern Ireland in 1969 to stand between the warring Roman Catholics and Protestants. About 14,500 now patrol this troubled British province.

"If the Protestants do go out, they will not waste their power on half measures," one source said. "And they will go if it looks like Britain is preparing to break its word and give in to the IRA fight to get Ulster out of the United Kingdom. If British soldiers leave the streets, the Protestants will rise."

A hundred soldiers ringed the Catholic Turf Lodge district of Belfast Wednesday where the three kidnaped Protestants were being interrogated by IRA men. The troops warned they would invade the area unless the captives were set free. They were, but the IRA hit. A sniper with a high velocity automatic rifle pumped bullets into a crowd of Protestant workers leaving a factory. Four men and a woman were wounded.

A bomb planted in a car exploded in a Protestant street and 16 people were taken to a hospital. A 20-year-old Protestant youth was shot in the thigh.

Police said a member of the Ulster Defense Force, the Protestant militia, was released after 24 hours of captivity by IRA guerrillas. His hands were burned, apparently by lighted cigarettes, they said.

Hempstead Second in Highway Accidents

The Police Services Division in its Monthly Statistical Review reported today that 62 persons died in traffic fatalities during the month of April. According to State Police figures this is 4 more deaths than were recorded over the same period a year ago.

Captain Milton Mosier, District Commander, of the Hope District for the Police Services Division said that 6 persons died during the month of April on Arkansas Highways in the Hope District. Counties in the District recording deaths were Little River with 2 deaths, Hempstead, Howard, Lafayette, and Miller 1 each. Clark, Nevada, Pike, and Sevier were free of traffic fatalities during the reporting period.

Mosier said troopers in the 9 county area investigated 98 accidents. Clark County experienced the highest accident rate during April recording 20 accidents, followed by Miller County with 14 accidents, Little River and Sevier 13 each, Howard 11, Hempstead 10, Nevada 9, Pike 7, and Lafayette 1.

The report indicated excessive speed was the leading contributing cause in the accidents, followed by failure to yield the right of way, and driving while under the influence of alcohol. The 62 deaths during April occurred in 51 fatal collisions. Statewide Troopers investigated 1096 accidents during the month of April.

Colonel Bill Miller, Chief of Police Services Division, Department of Public Safety gave a breakdown of last weekends stepped up enforcement.

Miller said the breakdown is as follows: 177 DWI arrests; 552 Speeding Arrests; 445 Hazardous Arrests (other than speeding); 442 Non-Hazardous Arrests; 993 Light Corrections; 1,110 Warnings; 3,204 Officer Violator Contacts; 575 Service to Motorists; 103 accidents investigated with one fatality.

Miller said the stepped up enforcement began Friday at 12:00 Noon and ran until midnight Sunday.

During the last three previous weekends, Arkansas has lost 29 persons in 23 fatal crashes concluded Miller.

Of French Origin

By definition, denim is made of all cotton but a variety of combinations of fibers is now used. Its name came from the French factory town which first produced it and it was called "serge de Nimes," meaning a fabric called "serge" from Nimes. This eventually became "denim."

Split May Undo Big School Bill

By JOHN BECKLER Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of civil-rights liberals and antibusing forces in Congress is threatening to undo a hard-won compromise on an $18.5-billion higher-education bill.

Both groups object to antibusing provisions added to the bill by House and Senate conferees—one said, because it thinks they go too far and the other because it thinks they don't go far enough.

Whether there are enough votes in the middle to save the bill—the most sweeping higher-education bill ever considered in Congress—depends in large part on the Republicans.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, who holds the key to the GOP response, declined to commit himself Wednesday when the conference agreement was announced.

"There are many, many questions to be answered and until they are, I am going to reserve judgment," said Ford.

One unanswered question is what position the Nixon administration will take. A White House lobbyist in chatting with newsmen indicated the price of administration support will be congressional action on President Nixon's own antibusing proposals.

One of Nixon's bills would fix remedies the courts could apply in desegregation cases, permitting busing only as a last resort, temporary measure. It also would provide extra funds for inner-city schools as an alternative to desegregating them.

Tops Club

There were 21 present for the Arkansas TOPS Club No. 94 when it met on Monday, May 15 at the Douglas Building. Linda Bell led the pledge and the song, and Margaret Polk, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

Queen of the Week was Betty Arnold. In the Bean Contest, Side 2 was ahead. The club gave Mary Robbins a going-away gift as she will be moving soon.

The leader, Linda Bell, gave advice to anyone who is overweight, and Mary Robbins had the program, "Living One Day at a Time." Several games were played with prizes going to the winners, and Judy Duke's name was drawn for the Ha-Ha Box.

Anyone interested in losing weight is invited to attend a TOPS Club meeting any Monday night at 7 p.m. in the Douglas Building.

Rose Garden Club

The Rose Garden Club met Friday, May 12 in the home of Mrs. W.H. Gunter with the president, Mrs. James Black, in charge of the business meeting.

A special guest, Jim Hart, showed pictures taken on a recent trip to the Holy Land, and he accompanied them with first-hand information about the places shown.

During the refreshment hour, dessert was served with coffee or cold drinks to 10. New officers will be installed at the June meeting in the home of Mrs. Steve Atkins.

Shower for Miss Reardon

Miss Susan Reardon, bride-elect of Glendon Martin, was honored with a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday night, May 16 at the Heritage House.

The honoree wore a navy two-piece ensemble and had a white carnation corsage. Similar flowers were presented to the mothers of the engaged couple, Mrs. Bill Reardon and Mrs. Bill Martin.

The house party consisted of the hostesses, Mesdames Charles Beck, Dean Murphy, Joe Tye, W.E. McFarland, Hobart Shirley, Leonard Sanders, N.B. Coleman and Clyde Coffee.

The serving table was overlaid with a white cutwork cloth and held a white centerpiece of mixed flowers. Pink fruit punch and coffee were served with cookies, nuts and mints for refreshments.

The hostesses gave the bride-elect a vacuum cleaner as a wedding gift, and the many other lovely and useful gifts were displayed on a table covered with a pink cloth.

Mrs. B.G. Hopson, grandmother of the groom-elect, was among the 50 who called and were registered in the guest book by Mrs. Tommy Burkhart, sister of the honoree.

Tina Ambassador Class

The Tina Ambassador Sunday School Class of the Garrett Memorial Baptist Church met Tuesday night May 16th in the home of Mrs. Alfred Bearden.

The meeting was opened with Mrs. Fannie Bohannon leading in prayer. Mrs. Virgie Cunningham presided over the business session. Mrs. Sidney Churchwell gave a very inspiring Devotional on the subject, "Love." Mrs. Cunningham then read a poem, "Recipe for Happiness." Mrs. Tom Duckett led in the closing prayer.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Clifton Booth served pie, nuts, coffee and punch to the nine members present.

A SNAIL MENACE

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The march of the Giant African Snail is among 100 exhibits on display at the new Delaware Museum of Natural History at nearby Greenville.

Museum scientists say that a youngster first brought three of the snails to North Miami from Hawaii in 1966. In two years, tens of thousands of them were ruining gardens, clogging air conditioners and marring the walls of houses.

Although the Department of Agriculture succeeded in ridding the area of the snails at a cost of $100,000, officials still maintain surveillance to make sure the voracious creatures don't return. Travelers must have a permit to bring live snails into the United States or face a fine of $500 or six months imprisonment.

Engagement Announced

MARY LAVERN SNELL

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Snell of Hope announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Lavern, to Larry Joe McWilliams, also of Hope.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Linnie Holiday of Mesquite, Texas.

Both Miss Snell and Mr. McWilliams are graduates of Hope High School.

The wedding will be an event of June 30, at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Emmet.

Relatives and friends of the couple are invited to attend. No cards will be sent.

Why Girls Leave Home

Dear Helen and Sue:

I want to marry Nancy, and I will, the day she turns 18. I'm 21, have a good job, have never been in major trouble—but her father hates me. She doesn't have a mother.

He is against all guys, but me especially because we're serious—and she is just six months from being 18 when she can marry without his consent.

The other day he ran me off the road in his car, dented his fender, and then he turned in a citizen's complaint saying I was a reckless driver and hit HIM. I would have been in bad trouble, except there was a witness he didn't notice.

I could bring charges against him, but that would only make it worse for Nancy.

Yesterday she was driving her father to work, when I came along in the opposite direction. She only just raised her hand in a little wave, but as I looked back I saw him slap her so hard she almost went off the road. Whenever she doesn't do exactly as he says, he beats her.

The only time she can call me is when he's away, and we see each other at our own risk. The first year I knew her he let us date once a week, but when he thought he'd lose her, he cracked down. He says he'll beat me to a pulp if he catches us together.

I can't give her up, but I may be dead if I don't. I don't think she's safe, living with him. What can I do? —BARNEY

Dear Barney:

If Nancy is in real danger (and can prove it via neighbors or relatives) then she should ask court permission to move from her father's house into a foster home where she would be protected from him.

(Are things really this bad?) —SUE

Dear Barney:

...But if he is only violent on one subject—you—well, a six-month wait isn't eternity.

In a battle that only time can win, the best offense is often a retreat—until time is on your side. —HELEN

Dear RAP:

I'm almost 15 and, for a boy, I don't have too many friends. I'm not lonely at school because I have lots of acquaintances but they all disappear after the last class and on weekends and, believe me, having no one to care enough to even call you up is quite a morale smasher.

There's nothing odd about me. I act friendly and nice. I may not have enemies, but I'd sure enjoy some close friends. Some guys tell me they'll call so I end up sitting by the phone, but it never rings.

Next fall we'll move to another town and I can hardly face it because I know it will be the same old bust. Could you please tell me how to act because, believe me, loneliness isn't a happy thing. —TIRED OF BEING FRIENDLESS

Dear TOBF:

Have you ever thought the problem may not be in the way you act but in whom you choose for friends? You have to look hard sometimes to find a guy who could be closer than "just an acquaintance." Maybe you're heading for the popular fellas, or the leaders, and ignoring the nice ordinary kid who is really your type.

Don't enter the new school with a negative attitude. Go in KNOWING you'll be accepted. Stay easy and friendly, go out for sports (if they're your bag) join clubs, or get into some kind of extracurricular activity. You'll make it if you stop being so anxious. —SUE

Dear Tired:

You said "wait by the phone but it never rings." Are you so afraid of being turned off that you won't make the first call? I'd guess you're pretty shy under that "friendly and nice" smile, but if you'll remember a lot of other fellows are also putting on an act, you won't find it so hard to start a real friendship. Good luck! —HELEN

Carefree Hair

Get ready for summer-time activity by getting a hair style that is carefree and easy to manage. A good professional cut or hair styling that complements your face and requires little care would help make the season more enjoyable.

Totally Lemon

If you like the fresh smell of lemon, you can go all out with it. You can start with lemon body soap, lemon after-bath, splash, lemon powder, and then add the final touch with a dab of lemon cologne.

Stylish Terry

Cotton terry is an easy-to-care-for, comfortable fabric that has been making some of the most popular summer apparel for many years. But this year's version is one of the best. It's a short-sleeved dress with round neckline and a slit straight up to the thigh. Terry is fun, but it's better still

Shakespeare Readings Tonight

The Arkansas Arts Center will present "Readings From Shakespeare" at St. Mark's Episcopal Church on Thursday, May 18, at 7:30 PM.

Four actors will read scenes and speeches from HENRY IV, PART I, HENRY V, RICHARD III, THE TEMPEST, AS YOU LIKE IT, HAMLET, MACBETH, OTHELLO, TAMING OF THE SHREW and JULIUS CAESAR.

Appearing in the cast are Fay Martin, Caroline Bond, Robert Ginnaven and William Bond.

The Program is a part of the Arkansas Art Center State Services Program, which is made possible through an appropriation from the Arkansas General Assembly.

The Artmobile and Tell-A-Tale Troupe, also part of the State Services Program, have already visited Hope.

The Rev. William Risinger, Jr., Vicar of St. Mark's, invites the public to this performance. There is no charge for admission.

A "CENTENNIAL BONNET" is worn by First Lady Pat Nixon at the Robersonville, N.C., centennial, and she looks right out of the pages of history.

Pale Colors Featured In Fall Fashions

By ANN HENCKEN

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The pale dress with the pale jacket—that's Chester Weinberg for fall.

"I just feel paleness, as opposed to murky, dark sadness or bright bugles," said Chester following the fall of Chester Weinberg Ltd., Chester Now, the less expensive line, and C.W. for Samuel Robert, a line of leathers.

He uses all one color for his ensembles. "It's monochromatic, where one color changes only with the textures," said Chester. Picture a pale peach suede jacket over a long pale peach dress. That's Chester. Peach on peach. White on white. Blue on blue.

"That's what I wanted to do and I did it. I'm never going to be halfway anything I believe in again—instead of trying to be all things to all people," said Chester.

His collection went heavy on the cardigan jacket—with no buttons, just a clean, straight shape. "I have as few belts and buttons as possible. It's very uncomplicated. For me, it's the culmination of everything I started three years ago, the unconstructed look," said Chester.

When Chester doesn't use the cardigan jacket, he uses the deep v-necked jacket, with an elasticized waist. These two jacket styles go over all manner of simple A-line skirts, or pants.

It's very simple. The trick is in the tone-on-tone look, and it's a very good collection. It's clear and pale and luxurious. It has a distinct style all it's own. Mollie Parnis stuck to her ladylike feeling with good colors.

Giorgio di Sant'Angelo brought out his knit line for Great Times with a great flourish of grape and grey patterned dresses and jackets. They are busy-looking and sort of fun, with layers and sweaters and so on.

Entertains Japanese

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A dinner party for 1,000 guests, including 200 visiting Japanese industrialists, has been staged in a cavern 140 feet underground north of the Missouri River.

The host Wednesday night was the Great Midwest Corp., which operates a storage business in the former limestone quarry.

Morgan Maxfield, president of Great Midwest, said the purpose of the party was to impress the Japanese with the significance of the 8.5 million square feet of underground storage space.

Pacemaker Implanted

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A miniaturized heart pacemaker has been implanted in a 2-month-old baby here, believed to be the youngest recipient of the device.

The operation, doctors said Wednesday, has enabled the once-failing heart of Nicole Kruljac to beat strongly. Nicole, a twin, was born with a complete heart block, said Dr. Stanley Higashino, chief of cardiology at Children's Hospital Medical Center.

Nicole, of Sonoma, was near death April 30 due to an abnormally slow heartbeat. Doctors installed a temporary pacemaker in her heart and the permanent model was implanted in an operation May 4.

The pacemaker sends electric impulses to the heart muscle, causing it to beat at a proper rate.

UNIQUE SERUM BANK

BALTIMORE (AP) — A new program to aid children for whom chicken pox could be fatal has been unveiled by Dr. Neil Solomon, Maryland's secretary of health.

Solomon said a special serum bank, first of its kind in the nation, would be established for children who are especially threatened by the illness.

"Chicken pox can be deadly for children who have to take certain drugs to combat arthritis, kidney disease, leukemia and other forms of cancer," he said.

Investigation Revealed

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten and NCAA officials have revealed they are investigating the University of Illinois for alleged athletic practice violations.

A preliminary inquiry has been filed with Illinois' Big Ten officials regarding an alleged violation of NCAA regulations. The NCAA said Wednesday in Kansas City, Wayne Duke, Big Ten commissioner, added in a statement.

"As a result of allegations filed with the NCAA this office and the NCAA are conducting a joint inquiry and review of University of Illinois athletic practices."

The Chicago Daily News reported Wednesday the probe was touched off by Alvin O'Neal, who was declared academically ineligible last summer at Illinois. O'Neal has been transferred to Murray State in Kentucky.

Investigation reportedly asked the Big Ten and NCAA officials helped him on his entrance examinations and whether he was given a car while on a basketball scholarship, the newspaper said.

Kris Hemminger, a former high school basketball standout who flunked at Illinois last year in his final freshman semester, was also questioned, the paper said.

Hemminger told the Daily News that he was questioned by NCAA officials about the recruiting practices that brought him to Illinois.

There was nothing wrong with the way they got me," he told the paper.

In 1967, three coaches were forced to resign and five athletes were declared ineligible after an investigation revealed that illegal "cash fund" payments were made to athletes.

Players Traded

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Padres and Oakland A's have completed a four-player deal that sends Ollie Brown to the Athletics and Curt Blefary to the Padres.

In addition, the Padres get left-handed pitcher Mike Kilkenny and a minor league player to be named later.

Blefary and Kilkenny had been used sparingly with the A's and Brown had started occasionally for San Diego.

Heard is Top Contender

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — It's kind of like stacking up building blocks," Jerry Heard said.

"You have to have confidence to play well. The more confidence you have the better you play. The better you play, the more confidence you have. One builds on the other."

Heard, a husky, boyishly handsome 25-year-old who seems destined for superstar status on the pro tour, made the observation before teeing off today in the first round of the $175,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis Golf Classic.

With Jack Nicklaus out, Australian Bruce Crampton taking a break and Lee Trevino still looking for the right formula the streaking Heard ranked as a top contender for the $37,500 first prize.

It's obvious the young man from California is playing very well indeed with finishes of seventh or better in six of his last seven starts. And he's exuding quiet confidence after his second victory of the season last week in the Colonial National Invitation at Fort Worth.

"I've got so much confidence right now I've got to watch it," Heard said. "I just can't wait to hit the ball and I'm rushing my shots if I'm not careful."

The relaxed and easy-going Heard pushed his bankroll for the year to $106,436 with his Colonial victory, second only to Nicklaus' $154,273. And, in only his fourth year on the tour, he joined Nicklaus and big George Archer as the only multiple winners for the season.

His schedule for the immediate future is in doubt.

"I really don't know just what I'm going to do," Heard said. "I'm kind of pointing for the (U.S.) Open" three weeks away. "I'd like to knock off Nicklaus."

Nicklaus, the Masters winner who has announced hopes of sweeping all four of the world's major championships this season, had planned to play here but had to withdraw Wednesday because of a virus.

He joined a host of others who withdrew for one reason or another. Among them are Tommy Bolt, DeWitt Weaver, Larry Hinson, Bob Goalby, Grier Jones, Dave Eichelberger and Bobby Nichols.

Still, the field of 147 is relatively strong. It's topped by Trevino, the defending champion, Arnold Palmer, Archer, Tommy Aaron and Dave Hill.

The site is the spanking new South course at the Colonial Country Club, a 7,195-yard, par 72 layout. It's being played this year for the first time.

Rookies Battle for Positions in Indy 500

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Steve Krisloff and John Mahler, two of last year's most notable rookies, appeared today to be in range of a second shot at the big money at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Krisloff, 23, of Parsippany, N.J., driving one of Grant King's new Kingfish-Offys, was clocked at 182.133 miles per hour in practice Wednesday.

If he can turn that kind of speed in final qualifying Saturday and Sunday, he could be certain of a spot somewhere near the middle of the 33-car starting field for the May 27 500.

Mahler, 24, of Bettendorf, Iowa, became the speedway's fastest rookie qualifier ever when he posted 181.144 m.p.h. for the 147th race, but he was bumped to the 27th spot when driver Dick Sells and his car, which carries the number 14, was faster.

The 33rd and 34th qualifiers, Steve Krisloff and John Mahler, were clocked at 182.133 and 181.144 m.p.h. respectively.

The 35th and 36th qualifiers, Steve Krisloff and John Mahler, were clocked at 182.133 and 181.144 m.p.h. respectively.

driving a two-year-old Eagle owned by Vanguard racing. Mahler had the car up to 181.378 m.p.h. Wednesday and at that rate could be a solid bet for a start, though hardly strong enough to endanger the dozen drivers who made the lineup last weekend.

Krisloff, a slender 145-pounder, started 27th in the 1971 race but was eliminated in a crash that also took out driving mate Mario Andretti. The accident was triggered when Krisloff's engine blew.

Mahler already is assured of rookie company. Sam Posey, Swede Savage and John Martin got into the lineup Sunday.

Posey put his Norris Eagle in the middle of the second row with a speed of 184.379. Savage posted 181.726 for the third row and Martin's 179.614 gave him a fourth row spot.

All three could be shuffled around a bit when such hot-shots as A.J. Foyt, Al Unser, Mark Donohue, Roger McCluskey, Peter Revson and Mike Mosley enter the line Saturday.

The Hempstead County ARC sponsored a group of special education students in a regional special olympics event at Henderson State College in Arkadelphia. The group was coached by Mrs. Linda Stuart and Jake Honea. They won 25 ribbons. There were 14 first place winners who will participate in the state finals in North Little Rock Wildcat Stadium on May 20. Winners at North Little Rock will participate in the National finals at UCLA in Los Angeles in August. The special olympics is co-sponsored by the Kennedy Foundation.

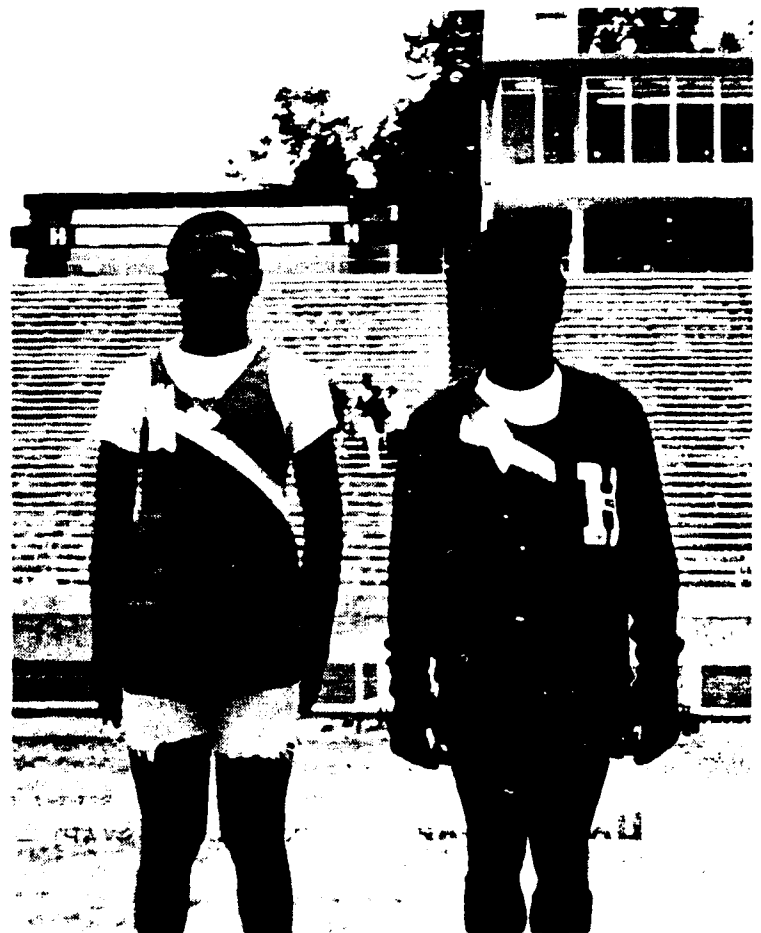

NCAA Tournament Begins

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Pan American, not so big with the bat, hopes its stellar mound staff can propel the Broncos into the NCAA playoffs for the second consecutive year in the District 6 baseball tournament beginning today.

The Broncos were scheduled to play Trinity, owners of a 22-game winning streak, at 1 p.m. with the loser playing Southwest Conference champion Texas at 7:30 p.m. The tournament is double elimination as the opening game winner plays Texas at 1 p.m. Friday.

Pan American finished fourth in the NCAA playoffs last year. Its staff has five of the top seven earned run averages in the tournament. James Newman of Pan American leads at 0.30 followed by Lupe Salinas at 0.39 and Andre Rabouin at 0.03.

Trinity has six regulars batting .300 or better, including right fielder Tommy Crumrine who has a .405 mark.

Doylin Washington and James Sharpe were winners of the Pentathlon event in which participants had to excel in five or more events.

Detroit Defeats Baltimore, McLain On Way to Minors

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The coast is clear. All the roadblocks have been removed. Denny McLain is on his way to the minors. Vida Blue is still getting his arm out of hibernation. It's your turn to step front and center, Mickey Lolich.

Detroit's quality left-hander, who always seems to be overshadowed by somebody else, knows an opportunity when he sees one. And he isn't passing up his chance at the American League's pitching spotlight.

Lolich won his sixth straight game Wednesday night and became the first seven-game winner in the majors with a 6-1 decision over Baltimore. He fired a four-hitter and struck out six, increasing his American League lead in that department to 33.

Elsewhere Wednesday, Cleveland edged New York 2-1, Milwaukee trounced Boston 4-1, Minnesota took Chicago 8-1, Oakland blanked California 4-0 and Texas outlasted Kansas City 4-3 in 18 innings.

Catcher Tom Haller drove in four runs for the Tigers, three of them on an eighth inning homer. That was plenty for Lolich, who now has seven complete games.

"No matter what I do," said Lolich, "people will remember what Vida Blue did last year. Can't you ever give me credit? What do I have to do?"

Well, he could play the organ like McLain, or hold out all spring like Blue.

Lolich was always Detroit's No. 2 pitcher behind McLain when Denny was with the Tigers. McLain won 31 games in 1968 to 17 for Lolich but it was the chubby lefty who was the World Series hero with three victories including the seventh game against Bob Gibson.

Now McLain's gone and Blue still hasn't thrown a ball in anger. Lolich is 7-1 and wondering who'll come along to shove him into the shadows this time.

George Scott hammered a two-run homer and Jim Lonborg earned his first victory, helping Milwaukee beat the Boston Red Sox.

Scott and Lonborg both came to the Brewers from Boston in the giant 10-man trade engineered by the two clubs during the 1971 World Series.

Cleveland nipped the Yankees when Tom McCraw opened the bottom of the ninth inning with a triple and then strolled home following three walks, the first two intentional.

Bobby Murcer homered for New York.

Danny Thompson ripped a bases-loaded triple and Harmon Killebrew tagged a two-run homer, moving Minnesota past Chicago. The defeat ended a six-game winning streak for the White Sox.

The homer was the 519th of Killebrew's career, leaving him two short of Ted Williams' total.

Ken Holtzman scattered eight hits and pitched Oakland past California. Holtzman also drove in two runs with a single Joe Rudi homered for the A's.

It was the third straight loss for Rudy May, who has not had a run scored for him this season.

The Texas-Kansas City marathon ended in a bizarre manner with catcher's interference and then a two-base throwing error by reliever Ted Abernathy leading to the Ranger's winning run.

Joe Lovitto reached base on catcher Dennis Paepke's interference and then raced to third when Abernathy threw away Jim Panther's attempted sacrifice. Toby Harrah's grounder got the winning run home.

Trevino, Sanders Share Honors

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Lee Trevino and Doug Sanders shared individual honors with a pair of 68s in the Pro-Am competition Wednesday preceding the start of the Danny Thomas-Memphis Open Golf Classic.

Trevino, the defending champion, and Sanders each won $462.50 for their Pro-Am efforts.

The 72-hole competition began today on the par 72 south course at the Colonial Country Club.

Jerry McGee and Labron Harris were next with 69s.

Ezra Hicks' fishing luck was quite good yesterday. Hicks set out trot lines at Allen's Ferry on Little River and caught a catfish weighing approximately 22 pounds. Mr. Hicks, of Little Rock, proudly displays his catch.

Sports Critic Scott Gets Chance To Practice What He Preaches

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

BERKELEY, Calif. — (NEA)—The mail has been coming in to Jack Scott. He is the new director of athletics and chairman of the physical education department at little Oberlin College and will be taking office at the Ohio school this summer.

One of his first acts was to hire Tommie Smith as the track coach. Tommie is the Olympic gold medal sprinter who raised his right fist in a black power salute on the victory stand at Mexico City.

"To complete the job," wrote one lady to Scott, "why don't you hire Angela Davis to teach Americanism?"

Such diatribe is not foreign to Scott, a balding young man of 30 with a blond wisp of mustache, who has been creating waves in the sports establishment of America since he first brought forth a paperback book called "Athletics for Athletes" in 1969.

He followed it with a hardback, "The Athletic Revolution," collaborated with football dropout Dave Meggys on "Out of Their League," and identified himself with such other sport dissidents as George Sauer, Harry Edwards and Chip Oliver.

Among the majority of men who administer American sports, the mention of Scott is a dirty word. He is the "Commie radical" out to destroy competitive athletics with his revolutionary ideas that the athletes are more important than the coaches or the owners.

Actually, in 1964, Jack Scott voted for Barry Goldwater for president. ("I felt," he explains, "that Goldwater at least was an honest man.")

He has, by founding the Institute for the Study of Sport and Society in a little frame house just off the campus of the University of California, where he acquired a Ph.D. in sociology, attempted to study the spectrum of American athletics in relation to a changing society. And what has come out until now has been primarily on the critical side.

For example: "You can eliminate racism in sport without changing the structure of sports. If the sports structure wasn't so damn stupid and uptight, they would recognize that potentially the black athlete is an ally of the sports establishment, if they would only treat the black fairly, because the blacks are so desperate in our society that if you give them a fair shake, most of them will come over to your point of view."

Scott says he didn't hire Smith as track coach just because he's black or because he admired Smith's actions at Mexico City (which he did). He never met Tommie until four weeks before. Then he interviewed him thoroughly and was impressed with Smith's poise and dignity and desire to teach at a high academic level (Smith, unheralded, has been coaching many of the country's leading track and field stars). In a year, Jack plans to elevate Tommie to athletic director and concentrate his own efforts in the physical education department.

The significance of Scott's appointment at Oberlin is that for the first time it puts a leader of the radical ethic in sport in a position to put theory into practice. The criticism of Scott has been that his views were always negative, that he didn't offer positive alternatives.

"I felt it would be a cheap shot to say this is the way things should be done," he says. "Now, on a gut level, I enjoy this opportunity."

He will have under his wing a comprehensive program which fields teams in 14 different NCAA sports competitions, ranging from football and basketball to lacrosse and gymnastics. At his disposal is a plant which includes 18 football and soccer fields and two gymnasiums.

But Jack isn't abandoning his scrutiny of the sports establishment. A condition of his job is that he was permitted to transfer his Institute from Berkeley to Oberlin, where it will operate independently of the college, with Jack's wife Micki as the full-time adjutant, just as she has always been.

Jack and Micki Scott also keep their dedication to sport physical by running six miles a day. Jack is a former track star, was a 9.6 sprinter whose career was aborted by injury. His penchant for running has been frustrated by locked gyms and stadiums. He and Micki were once arrested for scaling the wall at Syracuse to take a spin around the track.

"Now," he says triumphantly, "I have the keys to the joint."

ANAHEIM (AP) — Center-fielder Ken Berry of the California Angels, injured Monday night in a base path collision, is expected to return to the team on May 22 in Oakland.

X rays proved no fracture after Berry's head was hurt in the accident. He suffered a mild concussion and a cut over his right eye.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Bobby Majors, the University of Tennessee's All-America safety, says he has agreed on a contract with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Majors, a third-round draft choice, said Tuesday night he would fly to Philadelphia later this week to sign the contract already agreed upon verbally.

"It was for more than one year," he said. "But I can't say anything else about terms."

Two Meadow Stable Colts May Take Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lucien Laurin, trainer of Kentucky Derby Winner Riva Ridge and a second Meadow Stable colt, Upper Case, says he thinks they'll come away from Saturday's Preakness with first and second money.

That could total a little more than $167,000.

Although Laurin conceded Wednesday that he was worried about Paul Mellon's Key to Mint, which could prove the spoiler to hopes of capturing the top two spots in the $150,000 added stakes, his talk was filled with jovial confidence.

"Key to the Mint won't be second. We're going to be 1-2. What do you think of that?" he said Wednesday after putting the two Meadow Stable colts through gallops at Pimlico here.

The way Laurin sees it, Riva Ridge will be able to best Key to Mint as he did three times last year and move a step closer to capturing all three of the Triple Crown of Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Upper Case is good enough to capture the runnerup spot but not to beat stablemate Riva Ridge, Laurin contends.

McGinnis Absence Hurts Pacers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The New York Nets' strategy in tonight's fifth game of the American Basketball Association championship playoff might well be to get Indiana rookie George McGinnis in foul trouble.

The series comes back to Indianapolis knotted at two games apiece and McGinnis has been a key factor, one way or the other, in all four games.

His absence under the boards, and from the floor, in all but 11 minutes of the second half in Monday's fourth game hurt the Pacers' running game. The Nets dominated the boards in the fourth quarter, coming from six points down after the third period to post a 110-105 victory.

In the Nets' other victory, a 117-115 triumph here in game two, McGinnis grabbed only 11 rebounds.

By contrast, he cleared 20 and 22 rebounds in Indiana's two successes.

New York hopes for better form from All-ABA guard Bill Melchioni to help offset the backcourt scoring of Pacer guards Freddie Lewis, Rick Mount and Billy Keller.

Travelers Break Losing Streak

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers broke a four-game losing streak on a play by Tommy Heintzelman in the seventh inning Wednesday night.

The Travelers defeated the Sun Dodgers 10-9.

With the score 10-9 and two men out in the seventh, Ron Downing came to the plate for El Paso. Earlier in the game he had a homer and a double.

Downing hit on a ball by Greg Millkan, which went to Millkan's left, on its way to center field. Heintzelman raced in back of the bag, to field the ball and fired to first, just in time to stop Mike Floyd, who was on second.

"That was a super play," said Fred Koenig, Arkansas manager. Tommy really made a major league play on that one. And it picked up. Right there, and there things could have gone badly."

Neither the Travelers nor the Sun Dodgers scored again.

Haller Drives In Three Runs

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Haller won $19 from Billy Martin Wednesday night.

Martin is glad. Haller, veteran catcher acquired in an off-season trade from Los Angeles, started his second game as a Tiger and drove in four runs—three on an eighth-inning homer—in Detroit's 6-1 victory over Baltimore.

It was his first American League hit.

"He won $19 from me tonight," Martin said smiling. "I give him $5 every time he advances a runner, and he gives me $1 when he doesn't. I told him I'd be happy to lose it."

Then the Tiger manager added: "I'll probably hear from the commissioner on this."

Haller has one hit in 10 plate appearances in limited duty behind All-Star catcher Bill Freehan, who has been a hot hitter all year.

Schneck Leads Team To Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A "scared" Dave Schneck overcame the horror of being hospitalized by a bean ball to power Texas League Eastern Division leader Memphis to victory Wednesday night.

Schneck, playing his first game since he was hit in the head with a pitch Sunday, singled, tripled and crashed a three-run homer as Memphis trimmed Midland 4-1. Schneck had all four runs batted in.

"I was scared," Schneck admitted before he went up to take his cuts. His eighth inning triple tied the game and the eighth inning homer, which tipped off the left fielder's glove, fell over the wall, icing the game.

In other games, Arkansas collected 11 hits and got almost as many runs in a 10-9 victory over El Paso, San Antonio blanked Shreveport 3-0 and Amarillo outlasted Alexandria 13-0.

Tom Cruz, Bill Bright and Alan Putz hit homers for Arkansas while Ron Downing clubbed a three-run homer for the losers.

Rick Young pitched a seven-hitter and Gorman Thomas, Tom Bianco and Rob Ellis backed him with homers for San Antonio.

Thirty-five hits featured the Amarillo-Alexandria game with Amarillo scoring four runs in the eighth and six in the night to take the victory.

El Paso now leads the Texas League West by one game over Amarillo. Memphis holds a three and one-half game lead over Alexandria in the TL East.

RISE TO OCCASION

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Milwaukee Bucks had made 291 of the 510 field goal attempts he attempted in playoff games going into this year's post-season competition. That gives him a 53.9 percentage, best in NBA history for playoff shooting.

Rangers Lead Royals 4-2

KANSAS CITY (AP) —

Catcher's interference, a two-base throwing error by pitcher Ted Abernathy and Toby Harrah's infield grounder gave the Texas Rangers an 18-inning 4-3 victory over the Kansas City Royals Wednesday night.

Joe Lovitto was awarded first base with one out in the 18th when catcher Dennis Paepke was charged with interfering with him at the plate.

Winning pitcher Jim Panther, 2-1, the sixth Texas pitcher, then hunted for a sacrifice and he reached second and Lovitto made it to third when Abernathy threw the ball away.

After Jim Driscoll was intentionally walked to load the bases, Tom Murphy, Kansas City's sixth hurler, relieved Abernathy, 0-1, and Harrah hit his game-winning grounder that forced Driscoll at second.

Wins Tennis Championship

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mike Holman of State College of Arkansas defeated Willie Stroope of Southern State 6-0, 7-6 Wednesday to win the tennis singles championship of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

Holman teamed with Tom Ramsey to defeat Dennis Rivers and Gary Earlywine of Southern State 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 in the doubles finals.

TOP TALLYING

The Indiana Pacers and the Virginia Squires have each scored 150 points in one playoff game to share the ABA record. The Pacers did it in 1969, beating Oakland, 150-122, while the Squires topped Kentucky, 150-137 in 1971.

EVERYBODY'S GOVERNOR

Prison reform, better medical care, new and better park and recreational facilities, more jobs, increased per capita income, reorganization of state government, stronger pollution control, tax reform, a comprehensive drug control bill, and other important legislation that was long overdue, represent the accomplishments of the Bumpers Administration during the past year and a half.

The record shows Dale Bumpers has been an active, hard working Governor, who has provided Arkansas aggressive and honest leadership, at a time when we needed it badly.

The record shows Dale Bumpers as a man who has served all elements of our state. He has refused to be dominated by any ambitious political group, or by the political machine that has controlled the state for so many years.

Governor Dale Bumpers has demonstrated to the people of Arkansas that he will work with all political factions, and serve them as fairly and honestly as is humanly possible. That's why he's called "everybody's governor".

Corporation Profits Increase

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Profits of corporations rose $5.6 billion in the first three months of the year, the biggest increase in a year, the Commerce Department said today.

The department said the increase brought before-tax profits of companies to a record $91.6 billion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate.

The increase came despite curbs on profit margins established by the Nixon administration when the Phase 2 economic controls went into effect last November.

The rise was far short of the $11 billion increase in profits recorded in the first quarter of 1971, but the record may be better since profits at that time rebounded from the General Motors strike.

Discounting last year's artificial rise in profits, the increase was the largest quarterly step-up in profits since the first quarter of 1969.

The bulk of the profit rise was in manufacturing and was concentrated in businesses which make durable goods. Higher earnings were particularly evident in the automobile, machinery and metals industries.

The department also released a revised first-quarter report on Gross National Product, output of the nation's goods and services, and it showed that the economy fared slightly better than had first been reported a month ago.

GNP market value of the nation's goods and services rose 12 per cent at an annual rate instead of the originally announced 11.8 per cent.

Inflation advanced at an annual rate of 6 per cent, down from the earlier figure of 6.2 per cent, and the economy actually grew at a rate of 5.6 per cent when inflation is discounted.

The new report showed consumers began to open their pocketbooks at a greater rate in the first three months of the year, as the personal savings rate declined to 7 per cent of disposable personal income. This figure was 7.8 per cent in the last three months of 1971.

Negotiate Newspaper Sale

BOSTON (AP) — The board of directors of the Boston Herald-Traveler, one of the Hub City's three major daily newspapers, is expected to meet today to consider sale of the newspaper to the Hearst Co. for $8.6 million, sources within the newspaper said.

Neither officials of the Herald-Traveler Corp., owners of the 125-year-old morning daily, nor officials of Hearst, which publishes the all-day Boston Record American and Sunday Advertiser, would comment.

The city's three commercial television stations reported the sale on their evening newscast Wednesday. All said they had learned of the pending sale from reliable sources.

Sale of the Herald-Traveler, which has been in financial straits since the mid-60s, will involve the newspaper's plant and its name, the sources said.

The future of nearly 1,000 Herald-Traveler employees was uncertain, but the source said they would not be automatically employed by Hearst.

Harold E. Clancy, president of the Boston Herald-Traveler Corp., could not be reached for comment. All major editors of the newspaper said they would have no comment.

Disarmament Conference at Dead End

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A

second of the stated U.S. goals for the Geneva disarmament conference, conventional-arms trade, is dead at least for this year. American officials say the United States has run out of concrete proposals.

The officials say none of the various U.S. approaches to controlling arms trade, some dating back to the Johnson administration, has made any progress.

This means that of the three priority items set out by the Nixon administration for the disarmament conference, two are dead for the foreseeable future. The conventional-arms issue has joined the proposed comprehensive test-ban treaty in the Geneva pigeonhole.

According to American disarmament experts, only a chemical-warfare agreement stands any chance with the Committee on the Conference of Disarmament which opened its current six-month session in February.

The comprehensive test-ban treaty fell this year, as it had in the past, in the constant U.S.-Soviet dispute over on-site inspection.

Over the past years, the United States has proposed several schemes to control conventional-arms trade, which totals more than $5.9 billion a year and accounts for four-fifths of the world's military expenditures.

The latest and most active American proposal was a concept first put forth in 1972 under which regional groupings of nations would work out limits to the amounts and types of arms they would buy.

This would require the purchasing nations to exercise the primary restraint rather than the major suppliers—the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Great Britain.

However, with some minor exceptions, none of the nations in the key regions—the Middle East, Latin America, South Asia, Africa, Southeast Asia—has shown any interest, the American officials say.

Although the American experts maintain the United States already exercises self-restraint in arms sales, they ac-

CDC Cites Need for Polio Immunization

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Pockets of unvaccinated children in many of the nation's big cities could cause an increase in polio cases during 1972, the National Center for Disease Control reported Wednesday.

"There are substantial numbers of children who aren't immunized, particularly in hard-to-reach ghetto areas," said the center's Dr. Michael Gregg. "Fortunately, there have been no large outbreaks."

The CDC reports the percentages of those never have been immunized against polio are considerably higher in poverty areas and among nonwhite children.

"We're likely to have somewhere in the neighbor hood of 25 to 45 cases this year," Gregg predicted. "But no one is wise enough to know what the year will bring. We don't know all the factors that make an epidemic or quiet year."

There were 19 reported cases of polio in the United States last year. Five cases have been reported to the CDC so far in 1972. California reported two cases, and Texas, Florida and New York each reported one.

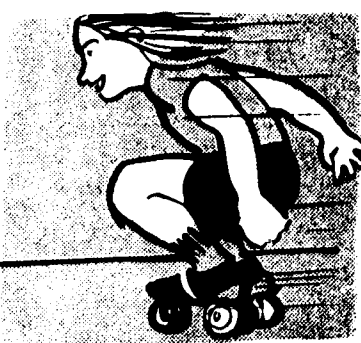

The CDC last year expressed concern that immunization against polio generally has been on the decline. At that time, the center said low numbers of polio cases apparently had caused a lack of emphasis on getting the vaccinations. The Salk vaccine developed in the mid-1950's and the Sabin vaccine developed in the early 1960's led to a huge decline of reported polio cases. In 1962, 21,269 cases were recorded in the United States.

"Pedestrian" on Skates

Roller skating on the sidewalk, six-year-old Teddy was hit by a delivery truck backing out of a driveway. In short order, Teddy's parents aimed a damage suit at the trucking company.

At the trial, they noted that pedestrians on sidewalks had the right of way over motor vehicles. "Maybe so," conceded the company. "But this boy was not really a 'pedestrian' at all. He was a roller skater."

However, the court upheld Teddy's claim. The judge said: "While a pedestrian is ordinarily one who travels on foot, the mere circumstance that he has attached to his feet roller skates, or walks on stilts, or uses crutches, does not clothe him with any other character than that of a pedestrian."

Local traffic laws often grant special rights to pedestrians over motorists. In most cases, as in this one, courts have given the word "pedestrian" a broad meaning.

But this works both ways. The status of pedestrian may involve duties as well as rights. Thus: A woman climbed down from a trolley car and started jaywalking toward an opposite corner. Struck and injured by a passing taxicab, she later sued the cab company for damages. When the company pointed to an ordinance against jaywalking by pedestrians, the woman replied: "Until I reached the sidewalk I was still a passenger, not a pedestrian. Therefore, the ordinance against jaywalking did not apply to me."

However, the court turned down her excuse. The judge said her status changed from passenger to pedestrian at the moment she got off the trolley.

What is your status if you have car trouble on the road and have to use your feet? In one case, a man was run down while walking behind his stalled car to set out warning flares on the highway. When he sued, he was blamed by the other driver for not walking on the left side of the road—like any other pedestrian.

But the court ruled that, at least in these circumstances, he could not fairly be classified as a pedestrian. The court said he was simply a motorist having an emergency.

Pryor Critizes McClellan

CHIDESTER, Ark. (AP) — In a speech here Wednesday night critical of Sen. John L. McClellan's role as a crime-fighter, Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said that "we must get to the causes of crime, not merely the effects."

Pryor told a rally in this Ouachita County town that "unless you get to the roots of a problem, you will always have the worry."

Pryor is one of three candidates opposing McClellan's reelection bid in the May 30 Democratic primary.

Pryor told the audience that in 1967 McClellan opposed a study by the senator's own Government Operations Committee that investigated the causes of civil disorders. Pryor said that in the same year McClellan opposed a measure that would train young people to assist policemen in law enforcement, and that in 1970, McClellan voted against increasing funds for the Bureau of Prisons.

"Earlier this week the people of this country witnessed another senseless act of brutality," Pryor said. "It is evidence of a rampant crime wave."

"I ask you to decide for yourself how truly committed Sen. McClellan is to the elimination of violence and disorder in this country. I ask you to decide for yourself how truly committed he is to the people of Arkansas."

Pryor also said the government has grown beyond the people it should represent. He said it was no wonder that abuses like the tax structure occur. "They are voted in — and continued — by the men who have lost touch with their constituents," Pryor said. "Abuses occur only to the man of low or average income. You never hear that large corporations are oppressed by government control."

Pryor called for a larger share of funds for education, meaningful reforms in the tax structure, legislation dealing with fair pensions plans, "and we must have representation in Congress that's friendly to the needs of our people. And we haven't had that for 30 years."

Since 1948, Pryor said, McClellan "has consistently voted against Social Security measures that would benefit directly the people of this country. He has voted to kill health insurance benefits for persons over 65. He has voted against increasing minimum monthly payments. He has opposed school lunch and food stamp programs whenever they came before the Congress."

Pryor also said he had asked McClellan to "tell us about his financial holdings. Yet he refuses. I have asked him to debate the issues. Again he refuses."

Bremer Brothers 'Strangers'

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The brother of the man charged with shooting Alabama Gov. George Wallace said Wednesday he had neither seen nor had contact with his brother for several years.

William A. Bremer of Greenwood, who is awaiting an extradition hearing to stand trial on charges of fraud in Florida, confirmed that Arthur H. Bremer, who is charged with the shooting of Wallace, was his brother.

"I am terribly sorry that Gov. Wallace and other members of his group were injured," William Bremer said. "I hope that each of them has a speedy and complete recovery."

William Bremer, 32, said his father visited him about four years ago and told him that his brother Arthur was a student at a college in Milwaukee. William Bremer said he had heard nothing of his brother since that time and had not seen him in more than 15 years.

William Bremer was arrested at his home March 23 on a warrant charging him with halting payment on a check in an attempt to defraud. He was charged in Municipal Court at Fort Smith as being a fugitive from justice and was released on $2,500 bond pending extradition proceedings.

William Bremer's extradition hearing is set for May 23 in the office of Gov. Dale Bumpers.

PERSONAL FINANCE

Millions of dollars are being wasted annually, or mis-spent, on health insurance policies that, as one critic put it, "provide about as much coverage as a size 10 polka-dot bikini on a body with a 48 waistline."

Policies that offer usually at tempting low cost—to "fill in the gaps" or cover unreimbursed expenses have to be scrutinized carefully. While some such policies can be worthwhile, many either prove not to provide the coverage the buyer thought he was getting, or cover the wrong gaps.

The "gap filler" is frequently a misuse of insurance dollars because it buys penny protection while leaving the policy owner exposed to uncovered expenses of hundreds or thousands of dollars.

John M.'s basic hospitalization coverage, for example, has a $50 deductible, and doesn't pay for such items as diagnostic X rays. He sees a policy advertised which, for a few dollars a year, will plug those holes, and it seems like a sensible protection against out-of-pocket expenses he'd just as soon not pay.

A few months later, sure enough, he's in the hospital. And his supplementary policy, just as advertised, covers $100 worth of these gaps. But after 60 days his basic coverage—he is now reminded—no longer pays his room charges, and a 10-week stay in the hospital leaves him with $850 of his bill uncovered.

Failure to cover the big potential expenses, while paying premiums on a "gap filler" is a classic case of being penny wise and pound foolish. What John M. needed, as supplementary coverage, was a major medical policy.

That was a case of covering the wrong gaps. The other risk a buyer of supplementary policies must be aware of is that the policy simply may not pay off—for a number of reasons.

One has to do with the "co-ordination of benefits" clause written into most basic policies, to prevent people from "investing" in numerous policies and making money on a hospital stay. You're in the hospital two weeks, and your basic policy covers all but $40 of the bill. You have also a supplementary "80-a-day" policy presumably good for $700 in benefits. Actually, it will cover only the $40 you're short, probably less than the premiums you've paid.

Supplementary policies may not pay for other reasons found in the fine print, one of the most common being the exclusion of "pre-existing conditions." Many "major" policies won't pay benefits for two years if you're hospitalized in connection with a condition that existed previously, even one you weren't aware of.

The Rocky Mount Baptist Church will begin revival services Sunday, May 21, and continue through the week. Bro. William Willis, Pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Vidalia, Louisiana will be the Evangelist.

Bro. Willis has many friends in this area, having pastored the Corinth Church at Bodeaw for several years. The pastor, Merlin Cox, and church invite all to come and worship with them. Services will begin at 10 A.M. and 7:30 P.M.

PLAYS BARBRA'S MA NEW YORK (AP) — Jane Hoffman, a regular in the television soap opera series, "Love or Life," has been signed to play Barbra Streisand's mother in "Up the Sandbox," now filming in Hollywood, Calif.

Other film locations will be in New York City and Kenya. Africa.

Fashion News for Fall

Is Coats and Jackets

By ANN HENCKEN Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Women should have no trouble keeping warm this fall—with all the news in coats and jackets. At Blassport, designer Bill Blass updates blazers in his sportswear collection with matching trompe l'oeil sweaters. He also likes the topper raincoat and the wrap jacket.

He shows the wrap look in a quiet tweed jacket with lynx collar, $280, and matching slacks, $70.

Or there's a red coat in a new machine-washable simulated suede.

This suede look-alike fabric is shown in a short orange jacket with matching slacks, $280, and "Lavish fur trims have always been big sellers," Joris said.

The topper was shown in shiny black with a very full back—and in a straighter blue and white checked style with red trim. This three-quarter length may look best with pants, but it does all right with a pleated skirt, too.

There were enough knee-length coats for the women who prefer a more conservative route into fall. One white coat was cut slightly fuller than last year's A-line.

"That's a happy medium for people who aren't ready for a radical change," said Joris, adding he likes the increased fullness of coats.

"For some reason, I've always thought of luxury as sort of looser, soft and flowing. Maybe it's a childhood thing."

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

This 15-Year-Old Had 13 Operations

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 15 years old and have had 13 operations, including a tumor above my right eye, tonsillectomy, removal of part of my bladder and my right kidney. As you can imagine, I have spent a lot of time in the hospital and have missed quite a lot of school. Because of this I developed slowly and am way behind most kids my age in body maturity. I am weak and get exhausted after the least bit of strain. My doctor prohibited me from participating in football, basketball and even physical education class. I would like to know what sports you think would be bad for one and what sports would do my physical condition good. Thank you, from Kidney-less.

Dear Reader—Of course you would like to participate in some sports, but I really think you had better rely on your doctor's judgment, because he knows all the details of your problems.

Although physical activity is very good for individuals who are healthy, sometimes when one has had serious illnesses like you have had, they can be harmful. You might talk to your doctor about the advisability of walking and hiking, which could help build you up physically to some extent. If your over-all physical condition will permit this, and if it is allowable it might help you gain some strength.

For anyone who has been inactive for a long time, even a young person like yourself, the proper way to begin any physical program before any sports activity would be a good walking program, carried out for a period of months until your physical condition will permit you to do something more.

If you are going to be physically limited for a long period of time, you might at least be able to compete with other people by developing your ability in games of skill. You don't need to be Hercules to be able to compete with other people and enjoy it. If you like cards, why not become a real card shark at bridge? It would help you socially and you could play bridge with your friends or some other card games if you preferred. You could make a project out of it, or if you really wanted to work on something brainy, why not become an expert on chess?

The American Optometric Assn. has a good safety suggestion. They recommend that all motorcyclists wear reflective material on all sides of their helmets to provide greater safety at night. The reflective material should be open triangles of about five square inches. Triangles of this size can be detected at distances of about 800 feet, which is three times farther than a normal white helmet can be seen at night.

The crowd at the Camelot bridge drama were in great excitement. It was the last land of the championship. Gawaine and his brother Gareth sat East and West for Ireland. Lancelot and his son Galahad sat North and South for England. Lancelot had to lead and make game to win the match and the audience cheered when after Lancelot's limit raise to three spades, Galahad went on to game because his heart was pure and because he had six spades.

Gareth opened the king of clubs. Galahad looked over it in dismay, carefully, and thought: "Forsooth, if I had Merlin's magic I would have been three no-trump. Now I have to leave—rewarded out of the fund also—my contract is lost.

But he was a friend for doing the right sort of things. Growing up in the mine and now in the quarry, he turned to doing something. He thought and talked the test club.

“You’re not there!” someone called. “The club’s old king queen took snail out clubs.” In that case, it was up to Gala herself to do a number, but he decided that Garret’s club-hoed man was exactly what it was. They he called for dummy’s ace, dealt the six of clubs and discarded a diamond.

“I had to skip school. Gareth [the player] as well as I had to. Then he cashed his air of parts to save the overbook. That. Gata had would score. Gareth played anything else.”

will enable families to determine well in advance what they will be able to afford and in which areas. They will also be kept informed of what price increases they can logically expect, based on the rising cost of living.

Says Mast, "The average housewife will easily be able to operate one of our small computers. And some of them are operating our present generation of small computers right now in part-time jobs with small businesses."

Lash Comb

A new product has come out on the cosmetic market that will put an end to the problem of lashes sticking together. It's a new mascara that comes with a comb applicator so it separates the lashes as it goes on.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Library of Congress was established for Congress in 1800 and now serves as the national library containing over 15 million volumes and pamphlets. The World Almanac says: Among treasures usually on exhibit are the Gutenberg Bible, the first and second drafts of the Gettysburg Address and Jefferson's "rough draft" of the Declaration of Independence.

Now Is Leaky Roof Repair Time

By MR. FIX

Spring or fall are good times for repairing a roof.

The in-between seasons are also good because repairing a roof is no job for either a cold day or a hot one. What you want are mild temperatures and little wind.

Even if you are pretty good at working in high places, avoid roofs with a steep pitch.

From the ground you can generally detect areas where shingles have been damaged or torn off. Detection from indoors comes about when the roof starts to leak.

Water may run along the inside slope of the roof before it drips to the floor. From the attic on a sunny day you should be able to see where light is entering. Run a wire through the opening so you can spot it from outside.

Asphalt shingles are in widest use and are easiest to repair. Loose shingles can be taken care of with a few dabs of asphalt cement underneath. Then nail down with roofing nails and cover the nail heads with more cement.

If the shingle needs replacing, carefully lift up the one above it and pry up the exposed nails. When you have the nails out, slide out the damaged shingle and put in a new one.

Place the new nails so that the upper shingle covers them. Put some asphalt cement on the nail heads and press the new shingle down. Avoid working with asphalt shingles during cold weather. They get brittle.

Wood shingles must be split and the pieces removed. Use a hacksaw blade to cut out the old nails. Slide a new shingle in place. Hammer it into place protecting the edge with a piece of wood so the hammer doesn't damage it. Drive nails through the space between the shingles above the new one.

Slate shingles are best left to a roofer, who has the tools to do the job.

Flat roofs are generally covered with roll roofing and are easy to repair. The first signs of trouble are small cracks and these can be repaired by spreading plenty of asphalt compound.

Large cracks or bulging areas can be repaired with a patch cut from roll roofing. Remove loose pieces. Cut the bulge so that the material lies flat. Apply asphalt cement. Put the patch on and nail in place, then cover with more cement. Seal the edges. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Few Individuals Escape Contact with 'Exceptional' Child

By Dr. Willard Abraham

Is there an "exceptional" child in your family?

Think about it for a minute. The answer probably will be "Yes." Check out your own youngsters, nieces and nephews, cousins and their various relatives. Include any who have handicapping conditions (physical, emotional and mental) as well as the gifted.

The facts point to one in every third family who is special in some way and one for every pair of grandparents. If your family was skipped, a neighbor or friend can perhaps tab two in theirs.

Not so long ago there was a kind of attic-and-cellar complex about these children (except maybe for some of the bright ones). Parents sometimes hid behind shame, secrecy and denial. Then Pearl Buck wrote about her daughter, and Dale Evans about hers, and the first major breakthrough came.

The movies helped, too. Films like "Charly," "The Miracle Worker," "A Child Is Waiting" and "Johnny Belinda." Recent ones show that mental retardation can be absorbed into our society in a normal kind of way, vividly demonstrated in "The Last Picture Show," "Straw Dogs" and "Ryan's Daughter."

Another breakthrough came through the famous families of Roosevelt, Kennedy and Humphrey and the handicapping conditions with which they lived.

The final page isn't written yet but we are a great deal closer to accepting children who differ and to stressing their strengths, at home and in schools, jobs and communities.

Once they stopped hiding their children and their own guilt feelings, parents made their needs known, loudly and clearly. They knocked on the doors of legislators and school boards, worked ACLD (Association for Children with Learning Difficulties) and with professionals individually and through organizations like NARC (National Association for Retarded Children), UCP (United Cerebral Palsy), in CEC (Council for Exceptional Children). Their grass roots efforts reached right up to Congress and several presidents and helped bring federal financing never even imagined just a few years ago (more than $115 million in the 1972 appropriation).

Although more than half of the seven million handicapped children in the world's richest country still receive no special educational help, we've made progress. All states now provide special school funding for these youngsters. Even the gifted are in the act, but with very limited financial support and in only a few states.

Other trends are upward, too. Like these:

- "Resource" teachers to work with specific needs of youngsters who are in regular classrooms most of the time (visually handicapped, for example).

- Early detection of children with learning disabilities.

- Fewer PKU (phenylketonuria) and rubella problems.

- Recognition that the handicapped can often work, earn and pay taxes, instead of being society's burden.

- Understanding that programs, parental acceptance and teaching skills help solve problems.

- The muddling "through" of our gifted seen for what it often is, a tragic loss of much of our greatest talent.

- Minority youngsters now identified as educationally handicapped and not erroneously labeled as mentally retarded on the basis of invalid testing.

- Contributions of sound early educational programs through professional nursery school settings (not the storefront, "Ma-and-Pa" variety).

Our task as parents isn't difficult to define. It is based on a home and school environment that recognizes deficiencies and strengths, so that we adapt our expectations to them. It requires our being as realistic as our parental subjectivity will permit and seeking expert help when necessary.

The child who can't see, hear or reason, whose tantrums or seizures are close to uncontrollable or who surprises the neighbors with his extensive vocabulary, delightful sense of humor or skills at writing, music or art needs our understanding, encouragement and help.

"We are not alone," said James Hilton, in the title of a popular book years ago. It applies to us as parents of children who differ. Teaching, medical, psychological and other professional personnel are on call, supplementing the insights, plans and love we have for these youngsters.

And if you know some fellow who says it's all somebody else's problem, don't get upset. He'll find out, perhaps earlier than he thinks, that the burden of child exceptionalities lives with all of us. With him, too.

SET FOR MUSIC HALL
NEW YORK (AP) — There is nothing like planning ahead. The film "1776," a Jack L. Warner production for Columbia Pictures, will have its world premiere as the 1972 Thanksgiving-Christmas attraction at the Radio City Music Hall.

The opening coincides with the 40th anniversary celebration of the Music Hall.

A crew of 150 worked more than two months to construct the set for the film.

Warden Trial Continues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The government was expected to conclude its case in U. S. District Court here today in the trial of three men accused in the beating of Paige Miller of Earle, a state Game and Fish Commission warden.

Miller testified Wednesday he "gathered" he was beaten because of the arrest of a group of men allegedly hunting over a baited field at Cat Island Sept. 1, 1970.

Miller was beaten last March 14, and three men are on trial in U. S. District Court here on a charge of conspiring to assault a federal witness.

Charged are Garland Stokes, 44, and Billy S. Brown, 39, both of West Memphis, and Lanny Green, 30, of Hughes. Stokes is charged with carrying out the alleged assault, and Brown and Green are charged with aiding and abetting.

Miller testified in 1970 against Stokes and Brown in federal District Court when the men were charged with shooting doves over a baited field. They two were convicted and assessed fines.

On cross-examination Wednesday, Miller said he "gathered" he (Stokes) was whipping me about Cat Island because 95 per cent of his talk was about Cat Island."

Miller also said he did not make arrangements for the arrests of Stokes and a group of others in the Cat Island incident. He said Lester Campbell of Weiner, district game warden, was the originator. He said he knew nothing about an offer being made to let the men involved post a $117-plus bond and forfeit it or their decision to decline it.

Agnew Says Meeting 'Fruitful'

BANGKOK (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew left Thailand for the United States today after a two-day visit and a side trip to South Vietnam. He said Saigon's prospects for withstanding the Communist offensive "look good."

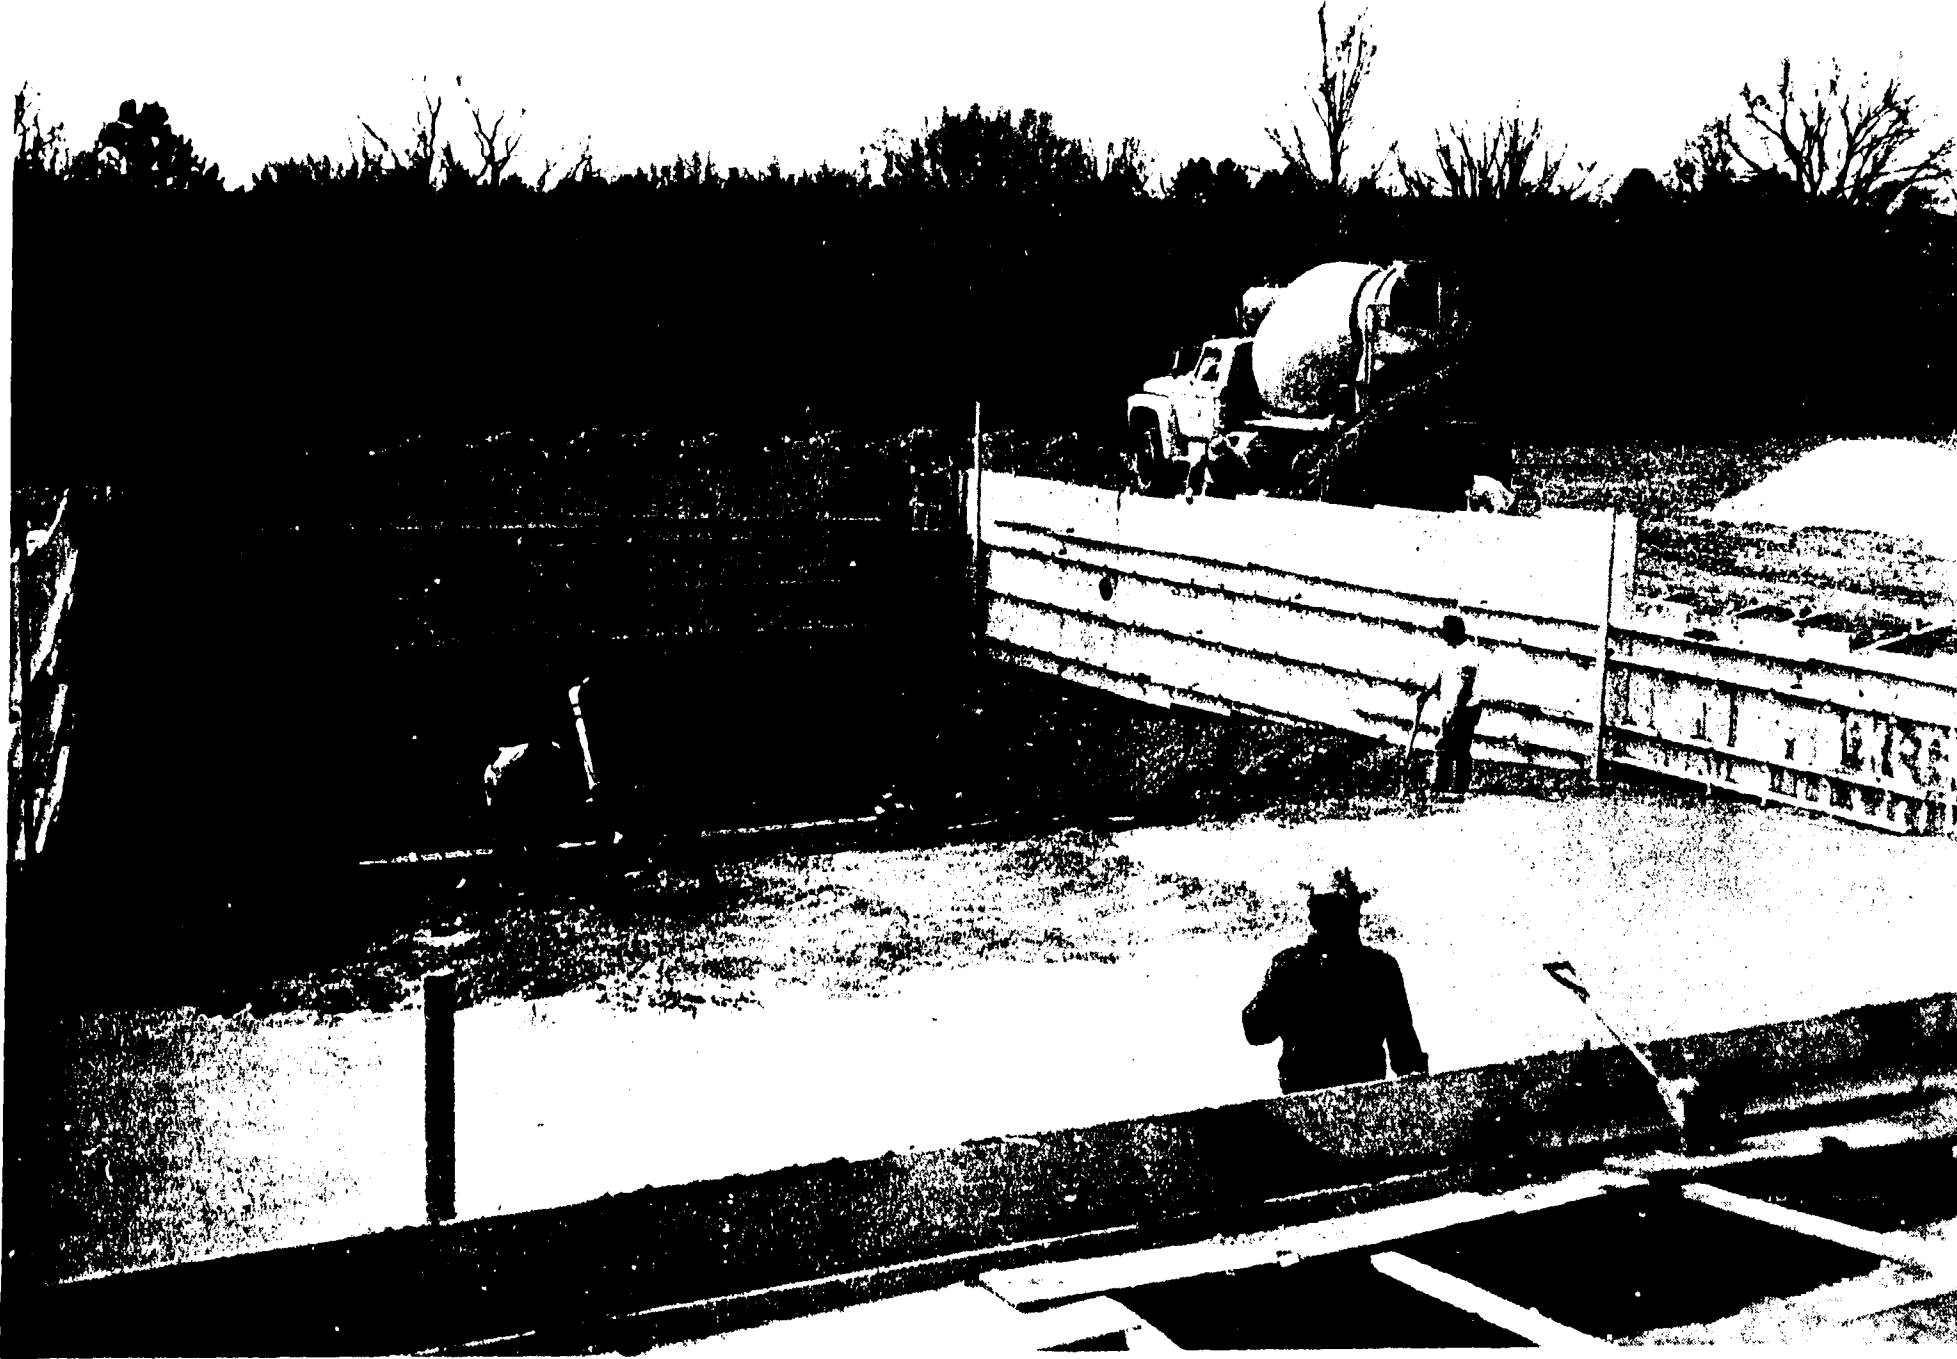

Agnew said his hour's meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu in Saigon Wednesday was "fruitful," and he is optimistic about South Vietnam's military strength.

"Although the situation is serious, the South Vietnamese military forces are more than holding their own," Agnew said. "I am confident that President Thieu and his military leaders will be able to withstand the present military pressures."

Agnew also said that for Thailand "real progress is impossible" without economic and military assistance from the United States, and that Washington will remain true to its commitments to Thailand.

Agnew met Tuesday and Wednesday with Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, chairman of the ruling National Executive Council, and other leaders. They discussed the new U.S. military buildup in Thailand and the war in Vietnam.

New Swim Pool for Girl Scout Camp at Mena

Construction of the new swimming pool at the Girl Scout Camp High Point, Mena is well under way and will be completed in time for the first arrival of campers on June 11.

Miss Gail Gilbert, camp director, has announced that the expanded waterfront activities will be under the direction of Miss Betty McDonald of Texarkana. A special aquatic unit for girls 14-17 years of age will be available July 23-28. The focus of the program for this unit will be Senior Life Saving and Water Safety Aide.

Waterfront activities for the other sessions will include canoeing, swimming and diving instructions, synchronized swimming and water games. Other camp activities will emphasize campcraft, nature study and nature craft, dramatics, and sports and games.

There will be 3 regular sessions with a fee of $45.00: June 11-23, June 25-July 7 and July 9-21. For Brownies there will be 3 one-week sessions: July 9-14, July 16-21 and July 23-28, with a fee of $25.00 for the one-week session. The camp is also open to girls who are non-Scouts for a small additional fee. Camp folders have been mailed to every Scout, but other girls can get a copy from the Conifer Girl Scout Council Service Center, 601 Pecan (Box 1318), Texarkana, Arkansas.

Man Undergoes Sex Change

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Wally Stott, one of Britain's top band leaders and composers of popular music, put on his suit and tie for the last time today.

The 48-year-old television and recording maestro has had a sex change operation and now will be known as Angela Morley.

Wednesday night he went to a concert in a blonde woman's wig and flowing evening gown. But he put on men's clothes today to drive north with his wife to break the news to his parents.

He and his wife of 30 years plan to continue together at their country home near London. They have a grown son and daughter.

"Since my earliest memories, I have had this problem," said Stott.

"A specialist advised me to have a complete sex change operation. Now I hope to be able to live a happy and dignified life. Naturally, I wish to carry on my career—but as a woman."

Stott's 28-year-old son, Brian, said, "We feel happy about Dad's operation—I still call him Dad at home, but I'll have to get used to using her and she when I talk to other people."

Stott underwent the operation secretly two weeks ago. To do so, he canceled an appearance before members of the royal family, and the rumors flew.

He was supposed to attend a special reunion show of "The Goons," a onetime team of wacky, fast-talking comedians which included Peter Sellers. Stott composed their music.

Prince Philip, Queen Elizabeth's husband, Princess Anne and Princess Margaret were at the show. The organizers said Stott had a previous engagement, but he explained today, "I did not want to offend the royal family in any way."

Coach of The Year

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — George Jones, baseball coach at Ouachita Baptist University, and Dr. Bob Gravett, head track coach at OBU, have been named NAIA District 17 coaches of the year in their respective areas.

The announcement came Wednesday from Auburn Smith of Southern State, district chairman.

Men-Only Policy Changed; May Have Female G-Men

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Female G-men? FBI employees in a dozen cities can't understand why a woman would apply to be a special agent and some special agents wouldn't want their daughters to be one.

But since Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III reversed the late J. Edgar Hoover's rigid policy against hiring women for crime investigation, hundreds of women have inquired about becoming special agents, a spot check showed.

The telephone check of 12 field offices and a visit to bureau headquarters here turned up polite, cordial responses from employees asked for information about obtaining a job as female special agent.

But typical of comments was this from an agent in New York who declined to give his name: "The job isn't for a woman. There's a lot of danger involved. She'll have the same duties as men. No pampering. Now really, would you want to see your daughter packing a .38 revolver?"

A secretary at FBI headquarters, who said she's received more than 100 queries since the men-only policy was changed, said few women meet the 5-foot-7 height requirement and so far only one has applied.

"Before the change," she said, "I thought I'd like to be an agent. It cried 'discrimination, discrimination.' But now that it's a possibility, I've changed my mind. Those jobs can be pretty rough."

A San Francisco agent said some of his colleagues fear women agents will make their work more dangerous.

"For instance," he said, "when you take someone with you on an arrest, he's the guy who may save your life. If a fellow is with a 120-pound girl, he'd have to do most of the job. Fellows aren't too enthusiastic about making an arrest with a girl with them."

In Dallas, a woman who said she's been with the FBI for 30 years said, "It isn't glamorous like they show you on TV. You're on call 24 hours a day. You're expected to work two hours a day overtime. You have to have an unblemished record. That means none of your relatives can have been arrested.

"But I'd be happy to send you an application if you're still interested."

FBI employees stress that women agents will be granted no special privileges. At an intensive 14-week training course, they must qualify with revolver, shotgun and rifle, meet stiff pull-up, sit-up and push-up requirements and run two miles in 17 minutes.

Applicants must be graduates of law school or accounting majors in college who have had one year experience in their profession. Otherwise, they must have a college degree and three years professional working experience.

Currently, 3,000 qualified men are on the waiting list.

Woman Loses Court Case

LITTLE ROCK—Mrs. Nora Fogle of Menifee (Conway County), acting as her own lawyer, lost a court case Wednesday to the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

Mrs. Fogle was attempting to halt the construction of a road to the proposed recreation area at the confluence of Cadron Creek on the Arkansas River.

The engineers had offered Mrs. Fogle $100 for a wedge-shaped sliver of land, but Mrs. Fogle said she turned them down because she did not want the engineers to cut the trees on the government-owned land beyond her section.

She also said there was already a road in the area and another one was unnecessary.

In his ruling, Federal Judge J. Smith Henley said that although there was already a road in the area, the engineers had showed there was a need for the proposed road.

He said Mrs. Fogle had not lost the case, which was heard in September, because she was not represented by a lawyer. He said that Mrs. Fogle had exhibited "notable expertise" in defending her case.

She said she had argued her own case because the lawyers she had sought to hire did not seem to want to try the case

Signs Letter of Intent

AMITY, Ark. (AP) — Ritchie Sorrells of Amity High School has signed a letter-of-intent to play baseball at the University of Arkansas.

Coach Norm DeBrynn of Arkansas made the announcement Wednesday.

War Casualties Increase

SAIGON (AP) — Both South Vietnamese and enemy casualties increased last week, according to the weekly summaries issued today, while the number of Americans killed or wounded in combat was less than the week before. But there were increases in U.S. casualties from nonhostile causes, apparently due to an air crash.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 750 government troops were killed last week, 2,319 were wounded and 344 were missing. For the previous week those totals were 603 killed, 2,028 wounded and 737 missing.

The South Vietnamese command listed 3,613 enemy killed last week, a sharp increase from 2,349 the week before. It said 56 enemy were captured.

The U.S. Command said 13 Americans were killed in action last week, six less than the week before. Twenty-six Americans were wounded in combat, headquarters said, two less than a week earlier.

However, the casualty summary reported 18 American deaths last week from nonhostile causes, an increase of 12 over the previous week, and 18 missing from nonhostile causes. Although the command would not say, 32 of them were believed lost in the crash May 10 of a big U.S. Army helicopter 20 miles north of Saigon. In such cases, men whose bodies are not recovered are usually listed as missing.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American—45,747 killed in action, 303,071 wounded, 10,170 dead from nonhostile causes, 1,583 missing or captured.

South Vietnamese—142,727 killed in action, 393,367 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—831,663 killed.

WORKING TOGETHER not only makes for marital harmony but is a lot of laughs for Troy and Teri-Anne. They are a couple of clowns, right, the only such husband-wife team in the United States, they believe. Billed as Buppa, Troy, 27, wears the traditional baggy pants and outsize shoes. Teri-Anne, 26, is Polka Dotty and dresses accordingly. From Virginia, Troy was performing at a television station when he decided to enroll in clown school and join the circus. His wife went along with the wardrobe staff but ended up in the act. Below, flatfooting through the tulip at the circus opening in New York.

How to be a Winner in Summer Job Competition

By ERNIE HOOD

The youth unemployment rate rose to 17.3 per cent this past summer, as compared with 15.7 per cent in 1970 and 12.8 per cent in 1969, pointing up the stiff competition for jobs at the starting level and the importance of the job interview.

Employment among young people rose 100,000 over the year to 11.3 million, returning close to the all-time summer record reached in 1969, but nevertheless since the number of young people in the labor force rose by about 390,000 over the year, the number of unemployed youths at 2.4 million was 280,000 above last year's level.

As the U.S. Labor Department notes in a new publication, the job interview is your testing ground — your best opportunity to convince an employer that you have something to offer his organization.

Here are a few tips the Labor Department offers to help you make the most of whatever time is allowed in that job interview:

1. Find out as much as you can about the firm, its products or services to improve your presentation and give you confidence.
2. Get information about the salary scale in your area for the job you are seeking.
3. Anticipate the questions you'll be asked — and plan a few points you can bring out about your qualifications for the job.
4. Dress neatly and conservatively for the interview.
5. Allow plenty of time so that you can arrive for your appointment early, and calm.
6. At the interview, stress your skills, not your limitations.
7. Be poised and confident, but not cocky.
8. Be pleasant, but businesslike.
9. Speak firmly and clearly.
10. Listen attentively to your interviewer's questions.
11. Answer questions honestly and briefly.
12. Bring out your stability and reliability.
13. Ask intelligent questions about the nature of the job.
14. Be realistic if asked about your salary requirements.

15. If the employer cannot use your services ask him politely if he can suggest another possible employer.

16. When the interview is over, thank the employer courteously and leave promptly.

17. Don't be timid and ill at ease.

18. Don't be stubborn and argumentative.

19. Don't emphasize your personal problems.

20. Don't exaggerate your skills or abilities.

21. Don't criticize a former employer.

22. Don't discuss salary, benefits and hours until the employer does.

23. Don't hesitate to fill out an application form, give references or take a physical exam if requested.

If the employer does not offer you a job but asks you to call or come for another interview, be sure you phone or appear on time. If he suggests a lead with another company, look into it promptly.

Try to gain something from each interview you have.

Judge whether you were poised at the interview — or talked too much.

In closing, in consideration of a career field you might want to keep in mind the following:

The number of young people in the service-producing industries rose by 100,000 over the year — an employment increase in retail trade more than offset declines in other miscellaneous services.

Another increase in employment of 100,000 occurred among youths in private household jobs and among self-employed and unpaid family workers.

In the goods-producing industries, employment of young people declined by 100,000 this summer, following a 460,000 drop the preceding year.

If you have a question about a career field, write to: SO YOU WANT TO BE in care of Newspaper Enterprise Association, Suite 110, 230 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

WORLD OF WORK

M. H. of Ithaca, N.Y., writes: We have just moved to this city and my 15-year-old daughter doesn't know what to do with herself this summer. She could use what she earns for school next year. Does the Labor Department know of any part-time jobs for teen-agers?

Dear M. H.: Every local Employment Service office across the country makes a special effort in the summertime to help young people find jobs. For low-income families, we are offering nationally about 600,000 nine-week jobs through the Neighborhood Youth Corps. They pay about $1.60 an hour. The National Alliance of Businessmen has pledged to hire 175,000 additional low-income youth in 126 major metropolitan areas. For youth of all economic backgrounds, the Federal-State Employment Service expects to have about 180,000 jobs listed by private employers and 60,000 more by state, county and municipal agencies. So, although it is obvious that we cannot provide a job for all young people who want them, there will nevertheless be a lot of jobs from which to select. We hope that every one of these jobs will be filled by a young worker.

E. D. of Phoenix, Ariz., writes: I'm a carpenter employed on a federal construction job. Many of us work overtime every week but don't get paid time-and-a-half. Is this legal?

Dear E. D.: It is not. Laws applying specifically to federal construction contractors require that most employees receive overtime for all hours worked in excess of eight a day or 40 a week, whichever is the greater number of hours. The Fair Labor Standards Act also covers the construction industry and requires time-and-a-half for hours over 40.

No tree can grow the way a man grows if he has a chip on his shoulder. Change your attitude. NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Pollard Finished for Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Medically, Art Pollard was reported in good condition today despite a broken leg. But the Medford, Ore., driver appears to be finished for this year's Indianapolis 500.

Last Sunday, Pollard, 45, qualified his No. 40 Lola-Ford in the middle of the third row for the May 27 Indy race.

But during practice Tuesday, at speeds nearing 185 miles per hour, the right rear hub broke and the wheel came off his car, hurling the English-built racer against the outer retaining wall of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Lola spokesmen at the Speedway said there was a spare chassis at the factory in England but they didn't know whether there were enough pieces for complete assembly.

COOKING IS FUN

COMPANY DINNER

Stuffed Veal Breast Potatoes
Green Beans Salad Bowl
Mrs. Banner's Chocolate Pie
MRS. BANNER'S CHOCOLATE PIE

This favorite dessert comes from a Boston hostess.

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup unsifted flour
2 cups milk
3 egg yolks
3 squares (each 1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, broken in half
4 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
1 tablespoon butter
9-inch baked pastry shell
1 container (8 ounces) heavy cream
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

In the top part of a double boiler stir together the sugar and flour; gradually stir in 1 1/2 cups of the milk, keeping smooth. In a small mixing bowl beat egg yolks with remaining 1/2 cup milk and add to sugar mixture; add chocolate. Cook over simmering water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in 3 teaspoons of the vanilla and the butter. Cool slightly. Pour into pastry shell. Refrigerate overnight to allow filling to set. Just before serving, whip cream with confectioners' sugar and remaining 1 teaspoon vanilla; spread over pie.

Keep Moist

A thin coat of moisturizer under make-up helps to prevent caking and peeling, particularly when the warm weather sets in.

What Rotarian Bill Reinhardt described as a double-barreled program was presented to the Hope Rotary Club on Friday, May 12 in the Town and Country. First, the club was delighted to hear from Mrs. Phillip Manus that the grant for the School of Hope has gone through, and she showed some colored slides of local students in the School of Hope and at a summer camp held for them at Fair Park.

To observe National Music Week Mrs. Paul Morgan of the Friday Music Club, which is affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs, presented Sandra McFarland and Marynell Branch, pupils of Mrs. R.L. Gosnell. They played a piano duet of "Exodus," and Miss Branch played a solo arrangement of Grieg's "Norwegian Concerto."

Club President Dr. Sam Strong welcomed a large number of guests, Floyd Young, Larry Thrash, Frank Douglas, Mel Thrash, Leonard Ellis, Jim Zumwalt of Cambridge, Mass., and a visiting Rotarian, Dr. Lloyd Guerin of Conway, a former secretary and past president of the Hope Rotary Club.

Public Relations Careers Begin with College

By ERNIE HOOD

Ralph D., Albany, N.Y., asks: "What can you tell me about needed preparation for a career in public relations work?"

Dear Ralph: A college education is the best preparation for a career in public relations.

Although employers differ about the field of study, courses in journalism, social sciences, business administration, psychology and public speaking are all recommended.

Secretarial skills are also useful, especially in small firms.

While you didn't raise the question about opportunities, I'm sure you'll be interested in a projected growth of 64 per cent in the 10 years ahead.

There are an estimated 100,000 engaged in public relations work at this writing, and that number will be up to 165,000 in 1980. There will be an average of close to 9,000 openings each year—something like 5,500 growth jobs and 3,500 replacements.

Lenny R., Pleasant Valley, Wyo., asks: "What are the career possibilities for veterinarians?"

Dear Lenny: There are about 24,000 practicing now and the Bureau of Labor Statistics believes there will be close to 35,000 in the field by 1980 . . . for a growth rate of about 41.7 per cent.

As a matter of general information, a license is required to practice veterinary medicine. An applicant must have a degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (D.V.M.), pass a state board examination, and in some states must have some practical experience under supervision. In addition, research and teaching positions require the master's or Ph.D. degree in a field such as pathology, physiology or bacteriology.

How To Fill The Cookie Jar

SNACKTIME GOODIE — Sugar cookies include nutritious rolled oats and have delightful fresh lemon flavor

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

Old time sugar cookies were always made from a dough that had to be rolled out and cut. But nowadays sugar cookies are made other ways.

One way is to shape the dough into small balls and flatten them with a greased custard cup dipped in sugar. Placing the sugar in a pie plate works well for dipping the custard cup.

These cookies have refreshing lemon flavor because they call for lemon juice and grated lemon rind. Grate the rind as fine as possible. Two medium size lemons will yield the two teaspoons called for. In grating remove only the outer yellow part of the rind, not the white inner rind underneath.

Because these cookies are on the delicate side, remove them from the cookie sheet as soon as they are firm enough to be moved. If they are allowed to cool completely on the cookie sheet, they will stick and break when removed.

LEMON SUGAR COOKIES

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup apricot or almond paste
1 cup white paper icing
1/2 cup sifted powdered sugar

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Beat butter and sugar in a large mixing bowl until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat in lemon rind and lemon juice. Gradually stir in sifted flour mixture blending well. Stir in oats. Thoroughly chill dough.

For each cookie, roll 1 level tablespoon of dough into a ball. Place balls several inches apart on greased cookie sheets. Using a custard cup that has been greased and dipped in sugar, flatten each ball to 1/8-inch thickness.

Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until lightly browned around edges. 8 to 10 minutes. Cool 1 minute, then carefully remove from cookie sheets with a wide spatula. Let cool on wire racks. Store in an airtight container.

Makes 4 dozen.
